

Alaska's Healthcare Webinar Series: Promoting a Paradigm of "Intercultural Care"

Co-provided by the Alaska Nurses Association and the Alaska AHEC (Area Health Education Centers)

Monday October 26, 2015
12:00 pm - 1:00 pm

Presented by:

Jean Emily Balestrery, Ph.D., MA, MSW

Dr. Balestrery received her PhD in social work and anthropology from University of Michigan, a Master of Social Work from University of Washington and a Bachelor of Arts from Brown University. Informed by many years of direct practice experience including social work in rural Alaska, her research interests focus on health disparities, intercultural communication, clinical practice and service delivery systems in an aging and culturally diverse global society. She is currently a Spirit of Eagles Hampton Faculty Fellow and was a 2015 scholar participant in the "Translational Health Disparities" course at the National Institute of Minority Health Disparities. She participates with the "Cultural Committee" in the Norton Sound region and is a council member on the Council of Sexual Orientation, Gender Identity and Expression with the Council on Social Work Education.

After completing this webinar you will be able to :

- ◆ Identify various models of health care systems
- ◆ Describe elements of "Intercultural Care" relevant to Indigenous peoples.
- ◆ Develop direct care skills in "Intercultural Care" with AK Native peoples

Primary audience: All professionals in a patient care setting including: Physicians, Nursing, Allied Health, and Social Services Professionals

Register online at www.akcache.org

$15 per registration

Your participation supports programming to grow Alaska's Healthcare Workforce.

One Nursing contact hour is being provided by the Alaska Nurses Association.

Application has been submitted and is pending approval for Social Work - Cross-Cultural Alaska Native contact hours.

For more information, contact

Pat Sammartino at (907) 786-6589 (plsammartino@uaa.alaska.edu)

This webinar was supported by HRSA Grant number U77HP23073. It's contents are solely the responsibility of the author and do not necessarily represent the views of the Health Resources and Services Administration, Area Health Education Centers Program

