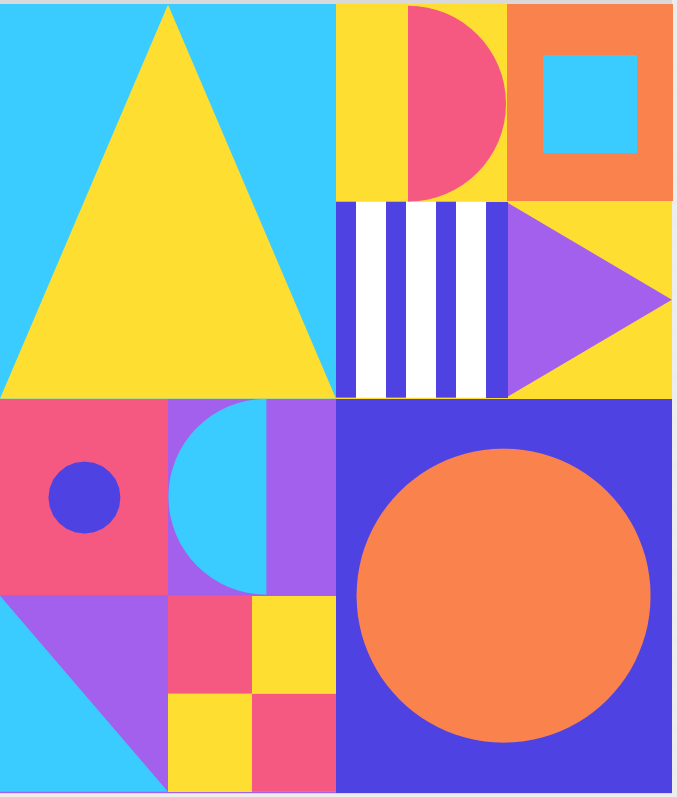
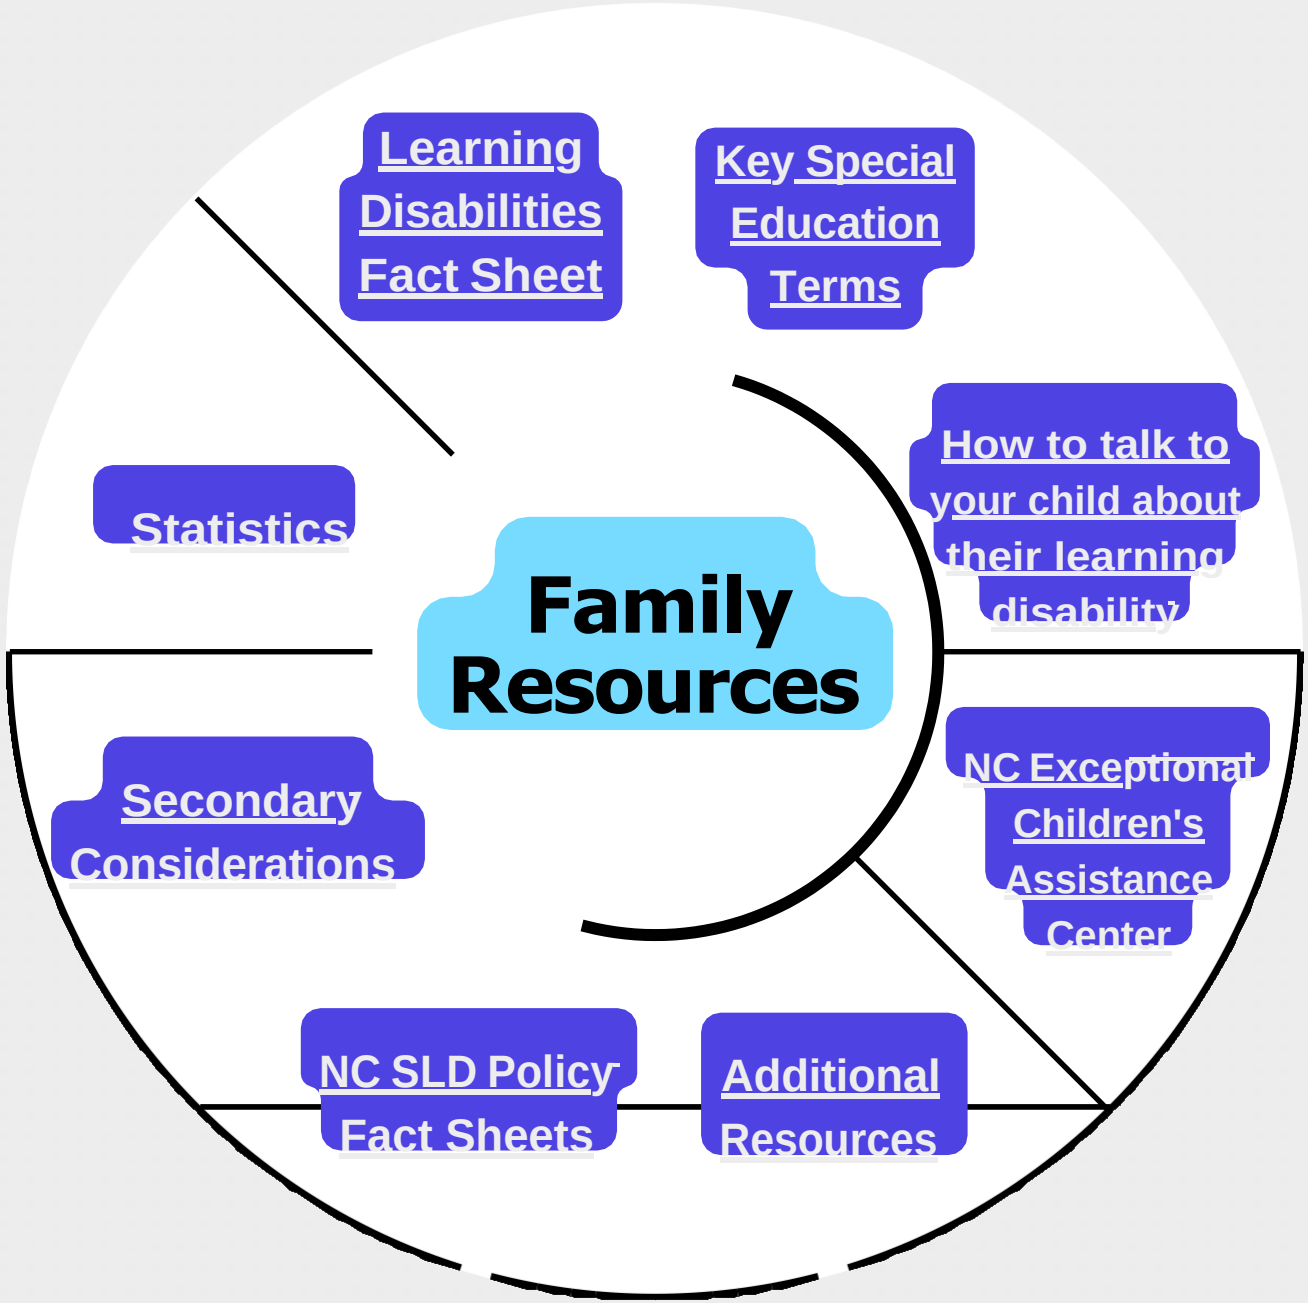
Family Communication

Families do not always know the language in an IEP meeting or where to look when a child is identified as a student with a specific learning disability.

How can the IEP team help?




These resources may be helpful to families on this journey as they seek information and resources.