The official website of Louisville Metro Government

When was the last time you explored the city's website, Louisvilleky.gov? It's been rated one of the top 5 city websites in America for the past 6 years! I think you'd be surprised by all the information and tools available to you. There's no way to cover all the features in this space, but did you know...

Quickfind - On the homepage, you can enter your address in MetroCall 311's Quickfind and find your junk set out dates, garbage day, yard waste day, your council district, your police district and beat number & fire district. Once you know your police district and beat number, you can go to the Metro Police website and click on their new crime map section where you can map crime around your address and subscribe to crime notifications.

MetroCall 311 QuickFind

Quickly find your junk set out dates, garbage and recycling pick up days, and public safety information.

Enter Street Address

Find more services & locations with Map It

- ✓ Start A Service Request
- ✓ Track A Service Request
- ✓ Live Chat with MetroCall
- ✓ MetroCall Website

If you click on the MapIt area in Quickfind, you can map city services and locations on a map, from driver licenses and county clerk locations to animal adoption locations to health clinics and much more. Below MapIt, you can start and track an online service request with MetroCall or live chat with MetroCall customer service during normal business hours.

You can see how your government is spending your money. Use the city's search engine to search for "transparency." The first page returned lets you see how the city spends its money, where it gets its money, search city expenditures & vendors, see employee salaries, put in an open records request and much more.

Want to attend a city planning or council meeting but don't know when they happen? The fastest way to find a board of zoning or planning meeting is to use the website's search engine and enter search terms such as planning meetings or BOZA. In fact, the search engine is the fastest way to find much of what you are looking for. And of course, the Metro Council website has a number of resources for you to look up existing local laws, speak at a meeting, see agendas, find popular ordinances, find events in your district and follow all of the work of the council.

Stay Informed – The city's site has a new digital subscription service called GovDelivery that allows you to subscribe to over 100 different e-news topics via email or text. Just look for the red envelope on the city's homepage.

And just below that, the CodeRED logo allows you to sign up for emergency alerts from the city, including severe weather alerts.

Mobile Apps – The city has two mobile apps for those of you with smart phones. Look for the links at the top of the city's homepage. Louisville Mobile features news, events, metro park features, restaurant inspection scores and more. MetroCall 311's mobile app lets you take a picture of a pothole or concern and submit it directly to the city for inspection!

On the Codes and Regulations website, www.louisvilleky.gov/ipl, you can search for property maintenance issues, create a building permit report, look up HVAC and electrical permits and submit a special event like a street block party completely online.

Pay for Something – The city now offers many different ways for you to get it done online. Just click on the Service Directory tab on the homepage for more information. Here's a list:

- License a pet
- Get an accident report
- Pay occupational taxes
- Get an electrical permit
- Get a HVAC & Mechanical Permit
- Get a building permit
- Pay a parking ticket
- Pay your water/sewer bill
- Pay your electric/gas bill
- Pay your cable TV bill
- Bid on surplus items
- Get a special events permit
- Pay child support electronically
- Donate to metro government
- Buy Louisville-related products
- Add money to a defendants account online
- Post bond for an inmate online

Map a bike route – The city's bike program, Bike Louisville, has a very cool tool called Ride the City that allows you to put in a start and stop address and map the safest route around town on a bicycle. Check it out at <http://www.ridethecity.com/louisville>

Do yourself a favor and save www.louisvilleky.gov in your favorites. You'll be amazed at the useful tools and information available!

LOUISVILLE'S MOST WANTED

May 26, 2012

The idea for a Louisville's Most Wanted program was conceived by retired Detective Bill Burke. The program began as a cooperative effort between WDRB FOX-41 television station, and the Louisville Metro Police Department. Photos of the following individuals will be shown at 9:00 P.M. ON WDRB FOX 41. This program is shown in conjunction with America's Most Wanted. WDRB FOX-41 shows a 30 second public service announcement of two persons currently wanted by the Louisville Metro Police. The persons shown are wanted for felony warrants only.

The program originally aired on 8-17-92 during the popular hour-long program, America's Most Wanted. To date, the program Louisville's Most Wanted, has aired over 1600 wanted felony suspects, and has apprehended over 97% of that number. Suspects have been caught in over 20 states and three other nations.

*A few key points

- Please remember that some crimes are preventable and you can do your part!
- Please remember to secure all values before you exit your vehicle! (GPS, Laptops, Purses, Cell Phones, etc)
- Please remember when you make a new purchase (Televisions, Game Systems, Stereo Equipment, etc) to record the model and serial numbers of the items along with the value of these items at the time of purchase! Please remember to keep the information in a secured location.
- Photographs of your valuables (Jewelry, Electronics, Special Coins etc) are very important to help with the recovery of your property
- Also remember to never leave your doors or windows unlocked when you leave your home!

To all KYECTF members:

Please advise your clients, colleagues, families and friends of the scamming trend called SMiSing or SMS phishing which has increased in popularity over the past two months.

SMiShing is basically phishing scams that are sent over Short Message Service (SMS) text messages.

As you may know, most phishing scams play on your fear of things such as:

- Fear of someone stealing your money
- Fear of being accused of a crime that you did not commit
- Fear of someone doing harm to you or your family
- Fear of something embarrassing being revealed about you (whether it is true or not)

A lot of phishing attacks which end up being successful likely go unreported because the victims don't want people to think they were gullible enough to get conned.

Phishers refine their scams over time learning which ones work, and which don't. Given the short nature of SMS messages, phishers have a very limited canvas on which to work so they have to be extra creative in a SMiShing attack.

Here are a few tips to help you tell spot SMiShing scam texts:

- Review your bank's and credit card company's policy on sending text messages

Many banks don't send text messages because they don't want people to fall for smishing attacks. If they do send texts find out what number they use to generate them so you will know if they are legitimate. The scammers may use spoofed alias numbers that look like they are from your bank, so you should still be skeptical and not reply directly. Contact your bank at their regular customer service number to see if the text was legit or not.

- Beware of messages that have a number that says it is from "5000"

Email-to-Text services often list 5000 or some other number that is not a cell number as where they originated from. Scammers are likely to mask their identity by using Email-to-Text services so that their actual phone number is not revealed.

- Ask yourself if the suspicious text preys on the fears mentioned above

If the message content fits into one of the fear categories above, be extra skeptical. If it is threatening in any way to you or your family members, report it to the local authorities and also to the Internet Crime Complaint Center \(IC3\) .

- Never reply to a suspicious text without doing research and verifying the source.

If it is really your bank texting you, then they should know exactly what you are talking about when you call them using the phone number on your latest statement. If they say there are no issues with your account, then the text was obviously bogus.

Can anything be done to prevent smishing texts from reaching you? Here are some steps you can take to keep the SMiShers at bay:

- Use Your Cell Providers Text Alias Feature

Almost all major cell providers allow you to setup an Text Alias that you can use to receive texts. The texts still come to your phone and you can send texts, but anyone you text sees your alias instead of your actual number. You can then block incoming texts from your real number and give all your friends and family the alias you are using. Since scammers most likely won't guess your alias and can't look it up in a phone book, using an alias should cut down on the number of spam and smishing texts you receive.

- Enable the "block texts from the internet" feature if available from your cell provider
Most spammers and SMiShers send texts via an internet text relay service which helps hide their identity and also doesn't count against their text allowance (scammers are notoriously frugal). Many cell providers will let you turn on a feature that will block texts that come in from the internet. This is another easy way to cut down on spam and smishing e-mail

The Better Business Bureau has issued warnings about this kind of scam. Here's some advice from the BBB:

- Don't fall for it. Know that retailers or others generally don't just give away very valuable gift cards or products for free. If it seems too good to be true, it probably is.
- Don't reply. Delete the message, without replying. If the text includes a phone number, don't call it. You'll just be calling attention to yourself as a potential victim to target. Don't click any links, as they could leave dangerous files on your phone or other device.
- Don't give up your personal information. You may be told that your information is needed in order to release a prize to you. Don't believe it. Don't give your bank account number or wire money to anyone, either. (Some scammers say you need to send in money for shipping or taxes, for example, before they can send you a big gift.)
- Report it. Call your cell-phone service provider and have the number the text came from blocked. You might have them block all premium text messages, as well.
- If the scammers succeed: If you think you've been a victim of smishing, contact the BBB. They can help you determine if you've been victimized and file a complaint against the perpetrator. You can also file a complaint with the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) at www.ftc.gov or via 1-877-HELP (4357). You should also call your affected credit card companies or banks, to alert them and perhaps cancel accounts and get new ones.
- Be vigilant: Finally, remember to check your credit report regularly, for signs of foul play. You may, after all, have been victimized without even realizing it. You can get a free copy of your credit report from each of the reporting agencies once per year, at www.annualcreditreport.com to look for fraudulent activity, and report the incident to BBB.
