Human Trafficking 101: An Overview for Libraries
Monday, February 23, 2015
1:00 p.m. – 2:00 p.m. (Eastern)

U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) invites you to participate in a special webinar designed for librarians on Monday, February 23, 2015 from 1 to 2:00 p.m. EST regarding the prevention of Human Trafficking.

Human Trafficking is a form of modern-day slavery, and involves the use of fraud, force, or coercion to exploit human beings for some type of labor or commercial sex purpose. Every year, millions of men, women, and children worldwide—including in the United States—are victims of human trafficking.

The U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) is responsible for investigating human trafficking, arresting traffickers and protecting victims. To highlight and unify the Department's efforts to combat human trafficking, the Department launched the Blue Campaign, which seeks to enhance public awareness, provide training, identify victim assistance, and support law enforcement investigations.

During this webinar, representatives from the DHS Campaign will provide an overview of the Department's human trafficking efforts and identify the various resources and tools currently available to raise awareness within local communities.
