

Wisconsin 2014 Hunter Education Conference May 3rd, 2014

This conference is open to all active, retired, apprentice, and junior instructors; supporters of Hunter Education and their families; and Department of Natural Resources staff. The conference will be held at a central location in the state at the Holiday Inn & Suites in Rothschild, WI. Address and reservation information follows below.

The emphasis this year is certifying more instructors in the internet style of instruction by conducting an actual hunter education class with certified instructors, mentors, and students using the new (non-range firing) Hunter Education Internet Field Day format. Instructor's currently certified for internet style classes do not need to be recertified in the new format. However they may wish to attend to observe as a refresher.

An indoor tree stand training aid that instructors can build for use indoors will be on display and used in this class. Plans to construct this training aid will be available at the conference. This is conference Track 1

Conference Track 2 will be a concurrent session on various updates in the Hunter Education program and the opportunity to network with fellow instructors.

Both tracks qualify for instructor continuing education credit. Additional event information will be posted on www.wheia.com as it becomes available.

Following the conference will be the 2014 Wisconsin Hunter Education Instructor of the Year Awards banquet, (includes Archery Instructor, Instructor Group, and Hunter Education Professional), WHEIA elections, and exciting raffles (including seven firearms).

Please indicate on your conference registration form which track you will be participating in. A box lunch is included with the conference for both tracks as instruction in Track 1 will continue through lunch during the Warden presentation.
