Re: State Attorneys General Support FCC Efforts in Combatting
Robocalls

Dear Chairwoman Rosenworcel:

The undersigned Attorneys General appreciate the Federal Communications Commission's (FCC) efforts in combatting the scourge of robocalls. We specifically commend its leadership in encouraging states to enter into information sharing agreements to facilitate fast, effective information sharing during the course of robocall investigations. We believe these information sharing agreements represent an important continuation of the progress made to date in combatting robocalls. The opportunity to enter these agreements honors our country's tradition of federalism and evidences a mutual commitment to working towards addressing complex issues collaboratively.

For the signatories' who have not yet entered into the information sharing agreements, this letter affirms their commitment to making a good faith attempt to sign the agreements. For those signatories who have entered into the agreements, this letter underscores their commitment to working collaboratively with the FCC to continue to combat robocalls through future investigations.

In Appendix A to this letter, please find the point of contact information for each state. For the states who have not yet entered into the information sharing agreements, we encourage the FCC to reach out directly to each point of contact about the process for moving forward with the information sharing agreements.

Sincerely,

Phil Weiser
