We need your input to ensure the application and the selection processes to appoint 15 members to the first LACDMH Peer Advisory Council allow for diversity and inclusion in all aspects in addition to representing the wide array of lived experience as a consumer, parent, caregiver or family member.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND:

- Individuals with the lived experience of the process of recovery from emotional trauma, mental illness or co-occurring mental health and substance use disorders
- Family members or caregivers of individuals described above
- Primary caregivers of children/youth who have received or are receiving services from DCFS, Probation, Regional Center, or DMH
- Individuals who provide mental health peer support services
- Representatives of peer-run service organizations/programs who themselves have the lived experience
