PLEASE SAVE THE DATE

The National Park Service, in cooperation with California State Parks and Marin County, invites the public to help develop options to better manage visitor demand and congestion at Muir Woods National Monument. The three organizations would like to actively involve interested parties in the planning process, and will hold a public meeting to solicit input on a range of possible operational and physical improvements and the issues and concerns that should be addressed in the plans and environmental compliance documents that will be prepared.

More detailed information will be sent before the meeting, including the official initiation of a public scoping period. For now, we are asking you to please save the date on your calendar.

Please see www.nps.gov/goga to receive email updates about this project.

Thank you.
