18. SUBJECT: CITIZENS' LAW ENFORCEMENT REVIEW BOARD ORDINANCE AND RULES UPDATE (DISTRICTS: ALL)

OVERVIEW

San Diego County voters established the Citizens' Law Enforcement Review Board (CLERB) in 1990 to provide independent investigation and oversight of the Sheriff and Probation Departments. CLERB is composed of eleven volunteer board members nominated by the County's Chief Administrative Officer and appointed by the Board of Supervisors. In addition to the volunteer board members, eight County employees support CLERB: an executive officer, one senior investigator, five investigators and an administrative professional. CLERB has the power to subpoena witnesses and evidence for use in its investigations and employs its own independent investigators. CLERB provides an annual report, which summarizes the cases investigated, the policy recommendations made and tracking of the types of complaints received.

The County Charter directs CLERB to receive, review and investigate a wide variety of complaints regarding the conduct of peace officers or custodial officers employed by the County Sheriff's Department or the Probation Department. CLERB is only authorized to review these actions if there has been a complaint submitted by a member of the public. CLERB also has the authority to review all deaths that occur in custody or in connection with the actions of peace officers or custodial officers employed by the County Sheriff's Department or the Probation Department, regardless of whether a complaint has been filed. The Board of Supervisors may direct CLERB to undertake additional duties, by ordinance.

On June 23, 2020 (28), the Board of Supervisors ("Board") approved a series of actions to increase independence and strengthen oversight of CLERB. One of the actions was to direct staff to return to the Board with an ordinance amending Sec. 340.9 of the Code of Administrative Ordinances to reflect additions to CLERB's oversight role, including the authority to investigate the following without the need for a citizen complaint:

- a. incidents involving the discharge of a firearm by peace officers or custodial officers employed by the County Sheriff's Department or the Probation Department;
- b. the use of force by peace officers or custodial officers employed by the County Sheriff's Department or the Probation Department resulting in great bodily injury; and
- c. the use of force by peace officers or custodial officers employed by the County Sheriff's Department or the Probation Department at protests or other events protected by the First Amendment.

Today's action is for the Board to approve an ordinance amending Sec. 340.9 of the Code of Administrative Ordinances and the amendment of CLERB's Rules and Regulations to reflect additions to CLERB's oversight role.

RECOMMENDATION(S)

CHIEF ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER

1. Approve the introduction of the Ordinance (First Reading), read title and waive further reading of the Ordinance entitled:
AN ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTION 340.9 OF THE SAN DIEGO COUNTY CODE OF ADMINISTRATIVE ORDINANCES PERTAINING TO THE DUTIES OF THE CITIZENS' LAW ENFORCEMENT REVIEW BOARD.

2. Approve the amendment of CLERB's Rules and Regulations as set forth in Attachment C.
3. If on October 27, 2020, the Board takes action as recommended in item 1 then, on November 17, 2020:

Submit the ordinance for further Board consideration and adoption (second reading).

19. SUBJECT: REGISTRAR OF VOTERS - APPOINTMENTS TO DISTRICT AND COMMUNITY PLANNING AREA BOARDS (DISTRICTS: ALL)

OVERVIEW

District and Community Planning Area elections are consolidated with the November 3, 2020 Presidential General Election. When the number of candidates for office in a district or planning group does not exceed the number of positions to be filled, State law (Elections Code Section 10515), Board of Supervisors Policies A-77 (Appointments to Fill Vacancies and Cancellation of Election where Insufficient Nominations Filed Prior to Uniform District Election and Citizen Planning Group Election) and I-1 (Planning and Sponsor Group Policies and Procedures) require the Board of Supervisors to appoint the persons who have been nominated for these offices in lieu of conducting an election. When there are fewer candidates than the number of positions available, the Board also has the responsibility to fill the vacancies by appointing individuals who are nominated by the Supervisors of the applicable districts.

Today's action requests the Board to appoint nominees to designated positions and to accept the list of remaining vacancies requiring appointments per Elections Code Section 10515.

RECOMMENDATION(S)

CHIEF ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER

1. Appoint the nominees to designated positions in the specific Districts and Community Planning Areas in which the number of candidates equals the number of positions to be filled.
2. Appoint the nominees to designated positions in which there are fewer candidates for the number of positions to be filled in the specific Districts and Community Planning Areas; accept the list of vacancies requiring appointment; and direct the Clerk of the Board to post the vacancy listings and notify the Districts and the Community Planning Areas of these vacancies.

20. SUBJECT: NATIONAL ELEMENTARY SCHOOL DISTRICT 2020 GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS, ELECTION OF 2016, SERIES A (DISTRICT: 1)

OVERVIEW

A bond election was held in the National Elementary School District, County of San Diego, California (“District”) on November 8, 2016 pursuant to Section 15100 et seq. of the Education Code of the State of California, at which at least 55% of voters casting ballots authorized the issuance of bonds of the District in the maximum aggregate principal amount of $30 million (“2016 Authorization”).

On October 14, 2020, the District Board adopted a resolution (“District Resolution”) authorizing the issuance of one or more series of general obligation bonds under 2016 Authorization in an aggregate principal amount not-to-exceed $3,000,000 and to be designated “National Elementary School District 2020 (San Diego County, California) General Obligation Bonds, Election of 2016, Series A” (“Series A GO Bonds”).

Today’s recommendation requests adoption of a resolution for issuance of the Series A GO Bonds. The resolution includes: authorizing the District to issue and sell Series A GO bonds, designating the Treasurer-Tax Collector of San Diego as the Paying Agent, executing a Paying Agent and Investment Management Agreement and directing the Auditor and Controller to maintain the tax roll for the Series A GO Bonds.

RECOMMENDATION(S)

CHIEF ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER

FISCAL IMPACT

The Series A GO Bonds will be general obligations of the National Elementary School District to be paid from ad valorem property taxes levied within the boundaries of the District, and do not constitute an obligation of the County.

This location currently houses HHSa’s Eligibility Data Processing Center, which is anticipated to relocate to another leased facility in Summer 2021. The current lease expires on October 31, 2020.

Staff from the Department of General Services has negotiated a lease amendment with the lessor, 4990 Viewridge LLC, that would extend the term of the lease through July 31, 2021. The extended term will allow time to relocate the Eligibility Data Processing Center. Today's request is for Board approval of the second amendment to lease agreement.

22. SUBJECT: APPROVAL OF THE DELIVERY OF AND RELATED FINANCING DOCUMENTS FOR THE REFUNDING CERTIFICATES OF PARTICIPATION FOR THE COUNTY ADMINISTRATION CENTER WATERFRONT PARK, SERIES 2020A, AND THE CEDAR AND KETTNER DEVELOPMENT, SERIES 2020B (DISTRICTS: ALL)

OVERVIEW

Pursuant to Board Policy B-65, Long-Term Obligations and Financial Management Policy, the County continually reviews its outstanding long-term financial obligations and seeks opportunities to refinance these obligations when economically advantageous pursuant to the Refunding Policy of the County Debt Advisory Committee. Current market conditions have created an opportunity to lower annual lease payments related to the County of San Diego Certificates of Participation for the 2011 County Administration Center ("CAC") Waterfront Park (the "Series 2011 Certificates") and the 2012 Cedar & Kettner Development (the "Series 2012 Certificates"), original par amounts of $32.7 million and $29.3 million, respectively. Currently, approximately $27.5 million of the Series 2011 Certificates and approximately $24.9 million of the "Series 2012 Certificates are outstanding.

Today's recommendations will direct County staff to refund the outstanding Series 2011 Certificates through the delivery of the Refunding Certificates of Participation, Series 2020A (the "2020A Refunding COPs") on a tax-exempt "current refunding" basis and to refund the outstanding Series 2012 Certificates through the delivery of the Refunding Certificates of Participation, Series 2020B (the "2020B Refunding COPs") on a federally taxable "advance refunding" basis, so long as market conditions allow for each refunding to separately meet its respective savings requirements under the County's Refunding Policy. Together, the 2020A Refunding COPs and the 2020B Refunding COPs are the "2020 Refunding COPs". The County's Refunding Policy states that: 1) A tax-exempt current refunding should achieve a minimum net present value ("NPV") savings target of 3% of Refunded Par and a taxable advance refunding should achieve a minimum NPV savings target of 5% of Refunded Par; 2) minimum NPV savings of $1 million; and 3) annual cash flow savings of at least $100,000. Today's recommendations will also approve the forms of the documents necessary to execute the refundings.

RECOMMENDATION(S)

CHIEF ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER

Adopt the Resolution entitled:

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF SAN DIEGO PROVIDING FOR THE EXECUTION AND DELIVERY OF ONE OR MORE FORMS OF A SITE LEASE, FACILITY LEASE AND TRUST AGREEMENT, APPROVING THE EXECUTION AND DELIVERY OF COUNTY OF SAN DIEGO REFUNDING CERTIFICATES OF PARTICIPATION, SERIES 2020A (TAX-EXEMPT) (COUNTY ADMINISTRATION CENTER WATERFRONT PARK) AND COUNTY OF SAN DIEGO REFUNDING CERTIFICATES OF PARTICIPATION, SERIES 2020B (FEDERALLY TAXABLE) (CEDAR AND KETTNER DEVELOPMENT), AND APPROVING THE EXECUTION AND DELIVERY OF CERTAIN ADDITIONAL DOCUMENTS RELATING THERETO.

FISCAL IMPACT

2011 CAC Waterfront Park Refunding (Tax-Exempt)

If approved, the 2020A Refunding COPs will result in budgetary savings to benefit the General Fund. The effective interest rate on the outstanding 2011 Certificates is 5.03% and based on current market conditions the expected interest rate after the refunding is 2.02%. It is anticipated that over the life of the refunding, approximately $8.4 million of net present value savings will be generated, which is 30.5% of the outstanding principal to be refunded. Annual cash flow savings would be approximately $626,000.

2012 Cedar and Kettner Development Refunding (Taxable)

If approved, the 2020B Refunding COPs will result in budgetary savings to benefit the General Fund. The effective interest rate on the outstanding 2012 Certificates is 3.65% and based on current market conditions the expected interest rate after the refunding is 2.52%. It is anticipated that over the life of the refunding, approximately $1.6 million of net present value savings will be generated, which is 6.4% of the outstanding principal to be refunded. Annual cash flow savings would be approximately $209,000.

If approved, based on current market conditions, the proposed refundings (on a combined basis), are estimated to result in savings in principal and interest payments of approximately $835,000 annually beginning in fiscal year 2022, which equates to $17.5 million in total cash flow savings over the remaining term of the outstanding Series 2011 Certificates and Series 2012 Certificates and $9.99 million of present value savings (19.1% of refunded par). The 2020A Refunding COPs and the 2020B Refunding COPs would each reach final maturity in Fiscal Year 2041, one year earlier than original maturity. The actual amount of savings will be determined based on interest rates at the time of sale of each series of the Refunding COPs. The 2020A Refunding COPs and the 2020B Refunding COPs will be awarded separately to the purchaser presenting the lowest interest rate in accordance with the Notice Inviting Bids for that series of Refunding COPs, as of the time of sale.

The Resolution authorizes a not to exceed amount for the 2020A Refunding COPs of $23,400,000 and authorizes a not to exceed amount for the 2020B Refunding COPs of $25,000,000. Pursuant to SB 450, a good faith estimate of the finance charge of the 2020A Refunding COPs and the 2020B Refunding COPs which includes the costs of issuance (rating agencies, special counsel, disclosure counsel, municipal advisor, title insurance, etc.) and underwriter's discount is $514,000. If approved, the County will only complete the execution and delivery of those Refunding COPs that meet the requirements of the County's Refunding Policy. The sale and delivery of the 2020A Refunding COPs is not a condition of the sale and delivery of the 2020B Refunding COPs, and vice versa, and each Series of 2020 Refunding COPs will have its own bid award and conditions for delivery.

The approval of the financing documents will result in no additional staff years.

30. SUBJECT: GENERAL SERVICES – CONTINUATION OF EMERGENCY REPAIRS AT THE HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES AGENCY HEALTH SERVICES COMPLEX, 3851 ROSECRANS STREET (DISTRICT: 4)

OVERVIEW

On September 25, 2020 both chillers at the Health and Human Services Agency (HHS) Health Services Complex (HSC), located at 3851 Rosecrans Street, San Diego experienced a failure causing them to operate at fifty percent capacity. The failures have caused chiller temperatures to rise upwards of 66 degrees and fluctuate with outside weather temperatures. Such temperatures affect the cooling and the ability to maintain Indoor Air Quality (IAQ) in accordance with American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air-Conditioning Engineers (ASHRE) Standards 55 and 62.1. Unmitigated, this can have a potential impact to the core functions of public health services at this location, including the San Diego County Psychiatric Hospital, which rely on these chillers. To ensure the continuity of operations, a temporary chiller has been rented and is currently providing chill water to the systems. Additionally, to mitigate the risk of further issues and ensure the continued provision of essential public services, it was necessary to declare an emergency and forgo competitive solicitation of the repair, remediation, and restoration work. In accordance with County Administrative Code Section 402, "Emergency Purchases," a notice to proceed for emergency repairs was issued to ACCO Engineered Systems, Inc., a contractor with previous County facility experience, to conduct the repairs. The total cost of repair is estimated at $210,000 and estimated time for completion of repairs is December 2020.

On October 13, 2020 (15), the San Diego County Board of Supervisors (Board) found that there is a need for emergency repairs at the HHS HSC, located at 3851 Rosecrans Street, San Diego, and provided authorization to continue the emergency action. Pursuant to Public Contract Code Section 22050, until the emergency repairs are completed, the Board is required to determine at every regularly scheduled meeting that there is a need to continue the emergency action. Today's action requests the Board to find there is a need to continue the emergency repair, remediation, and restoration work at the HHS HSC.

RECOMMENDATION(S)

CHIEF ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER

1. Find the proposed project is statutorily exempt from California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) review pursuant to Sections 15269(b) and 15301 of the CEQA Guidelines because the proposed project is for emergency repairs to a publicly owned service facility necessary to maintain service essential to the public health, safety or welfare, and because it consists of the minor alteration of existing public facilities involving negligible or no expansion of existing use.
2. Pursuant to Public Contract Code Section 22050(c)(2)(a), find that there is a need to continue emergency repair, remediation, and restoration of the Health Services Complex without giving notice for bids to let a contract. (4 VOTES)

FISCAL IMPACT

Funds for this request are included in the Fiscal Year 2020-21 Operational Plan for the Department of General Services Facilities Management Internal Service Fund. If approved, this request will result in costs and revenue of approximately $210,000. The funding source are charges to the client department. There will be no change in net General Fund cost and no additional staff years.

CLERK OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

OVERVIEW

On September 25, 2020 both chillers at the Health and Human Services Agency (HHS) Health Services Complex (HSC), located at 3851 Rosecrans Street, San Diego experienced a failure causing them to operate at fifty percent capacity. The failures have caused chiller temperatures to rise upwards of 66 degrees and fluctuate with outside weather temperatures. Such temperatures affect the cooling and the ability to maintain Indoor Air Quality (IAQ) in accordance with American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air-Conditioning Engineers (ASHRE) Standards 55 and 62.1. Unmitigated, this can have a potential impact to the core functions of public health services at this location, including the San Diego County Psychiatric Hospital, which rely on these chillers. To ensure the continuity of operations, a temporary chiller has been rented and is currently providing chill water to the systems. Additionally, to mitigate the risk of further issues and ensure the continued provision of essential public services, it was necessary to declare an emergency and forgo competitive solicitation of the repair, remediation, and restoration work. In accordance with County Administrative Code Section 402, "Emergency Purchases," a notice to proceed for emergency repairs was issued to ACCO Engineered Systems, Inc., a contractor with previous County facility experience, to conduct the repairs. The total cost of repair is estimated at $210,000 and estimated time for completion of repairs is December 2020.

On October 13, 2020 (15), the San Diego County Board of Supervisors (Board) found that there is a need for emergency repairs at the HHS HSC, located at 3851 Rosecrans Street, San Diego, and provided authorization to continue the emergency action. Pursuant to Public Contract Code Section 22050, until the emergency repairs are completed, the Board is required to determine at every regularly scheduled meeting that there is a need to continue the emergency action. Today's action requests the Board to find there is a need to continue the emergency repair, remediation, and restoration work at the HHS HSC.

RECOMMENDATION(S)

CHIEF ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER

1. Find the proposed project is statutorily exempt from California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) review pursuant to Sections 15269(b) and 15301 of the CEQA Guidelines because the proposed project is for emergency repairs to a publicly owned service facility necessary to maintain service essential to the public health, safety or welfare, and because it consists of the minor alteration of existing public facilities involving negligible or no expansion of existing use.
2. Pursuant to Public Contract Code Section 22050(c)(2)(a), find that there is a need to continue emergency repair, remediation, and restoration of the Health Services Complex without giving notice for bids to let a contract. (4 VOTES)

FISCAL IMPACT

Re: Notice of Violation and Intent to File Suit Under the Clean Water Act

To the Above-Listed Recipients:

On behalf of San Diego Coastkeeper (“Coastkeeper”) and Coastal Environmental Rights Foundation (“CERF”) (collectively “Citizen Groups”) please accept this notice that the County of San Diego (“County”) is in violation of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, 33 U.S.C. §§ 1251, et seq. (“Clean Water Act” or CWA). As detailed below, the County unlawfully discharges pollution, including bacterial, nutrient, metallic, and sedimentary pollution, in violation of the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (“NPDES”) Permit and Waste Discharge Requirements for Discharges from the Municipal Separate Storm Sewer Systems (“MS4s”) Draining the Watersheds Within the San Diego Region, NPDES Permit No. CAS0109266, Order No. R9-2016-001, as Amended by Order Nos. R9-2015-001 and R9-2015-0100, California Regional Water Quality Control Board San Diego Region (“MS4 Permit”).

The MS4 Permit regulates discharges to and from the County’s MS4. As alleged herein, the County has failed to develop and implement the plans necessary to prevent the discharge of various pollutants including bacteria, nutrients, metals, sediments and other solids, raw sewage, and other associated pollutants to and from its MS4. It has further failed to prevent discharges from its MS4 that cause and contribute to violations of water quality standards in local waterways.

Municipal stormwater is a significant source of bacteria to urban creeks, streams, rivers, lagoons, bays, and the ocean. Bacteria concentrations recorded from the County’s waterways and those downstream of the County’s jurisdiction indicate they are unsafe for human contact following minor storm events and even during dry weather. High bacteria concentrations can be directly attributed, in part, to discharges from urban stormwater systems.¹ Further, municipal stormwater is also a source of nutrients, pesticides, metals, sediment, solvents, and oil and grease that are toxic to humans and the environment and impair our waterways.² As a result, stormwater outfalls have proven to be a significant pathway for bacterial and other harmful pollutant loading that results in a considerable public and environmental health risk.

Sci. Technol.* 2011, 45, 17, 7151–7157 (Jul. 25, 2011).

² MS4 Permit § I.12 (“The most common pollutants in runoff discharged from the MS4s include total suspended solids, sediment, pathogens (e.g., bacteria, viruses, protozoa), heavy metals (e.g., cadmium, copper, lead, and zinc), petroleum products and polynuclear aromatic hydrocarbons, synthetic organics (e.g., pesticides, herbicides, and PCBs), nutrients (e.g., nitrogen and phosphorus), oxygen demanding substances (e.g., decaying vegetation, animal waste), detergents, and trash.”).

Dry-weather storm drain flows composed primarily of landscape over-irrigation are not only wasteful, but also carry pollutants that impair recreational uses of aquatic habitats all along San Diego's urbanized waterways and coastline. Storm drains carry the wasted water, along with landscape-derived pollutants such as bacteria, nutrients, and pesticides to local creeks, streams, rivers, and the ocean, posing a significant public and environmental health risks. Unseasonal dry weather flows cause species shifts in local riparian communities and warm, contaminated freshwater plumes in the near-shore environment.³

Sixty (60) days prior to the initiation of a civil action under Section 505(a) of the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. § 1365(a), a citizen must give notice of his/her intention to file suit.⁴ As required by the Clean Water Act, Coastkeeper and CERF hereby place the County of San Diego on formal notice that, immediately after expiration of sixty (60) days from the date of this Notice of Violation and Intent to File Suit ("Notice Letter"), Coastkeeper and CERF intend to file suit in federal district court pursuant to Section 505(a) of the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. § 1365(a), against the persons responsible for the violations described herein. We strongly encourage the County to contact us to begin settlement discussions and explore options for resolution immediately.

I. ORGANIZATIONS GIVING NOTICE OF CLEAN WATER ACT VIOLATIONS

San Diego Coastkeeper is a non-profit public benefit corporation organized under the laws of the State of California with its office at 2825 Dewey Road, Suite 207, San Diego, California 92106. Coastkeeper's telephone number is 619-758-7743. Founded in 1995, San Diego Coastkeeper is dedicated to the preservation, protection, and defense of the environment, wildlife, and natural resources of San Diego County watersheds. To further these goals, Coastkeeper actively seeks federal and state agency implementation of the Clean Water Act, and, where necessary, directly initiates enforcement actions on behalf of themselves and their members.

CERF is a non-profit public benefit corporation organized under the laws of the State of California with its main office in Encinitas, California. CERF is dedicated to the preservation, protection, and defense of the environment, the wildlife, and the natural resources of the California Coast. CERF's mailing address is 1140 S. Coast Highway 101, Encinitas, California 92024 and its telephone number is 760-942-8505.

Members of Coastkeeper and CERF use and enjoy the waters into which the County discharges, including but not limited to the Santa Margarita River, San Luis Rey River, Agua Hedionda Creek, San Marcos Creek, Escondido Creek, San Dieguito River, Los Penasquitos Creek, San Diego River, Sweetwater River, Otay River, Tijuana River, Pacific Ocean, and numerous tributaries, lagoons, and other waterbodies (collectively "Receiving Waters"). See Exhibit 1 (listing all water body segments recognized by the California State Water Resources Control Board downstream from County MS4 outfalls included in the County's own MS4 outfall monitoring data).⁵ Specifically, members of Coastkeeper and CERF use the Receiving Waters to swim, boat, kayak, surf, bird watch, view wildlife in and around these waters, fish, hike, bike, walk, run, and/or for general aesthetic enjoyment. Additionally, members of Coastkeeper and CERF use the Receiving Waters to engage in scientific study through pollution and habitat monitoring and restoration activities. The discharge of pollutants from the County's MS4 impair each of these uses. Coastkeeper's and CERF's members' use and enjoyment of the Receiving Waters has been and continues to be adversely affected by discharges of polluted stormwater runoff, polluted dry weather flows, sewage, and other pollutants via the MS4 to the Receiving Waters, as well as the County's failure to develop and implement programs to effectively control and monitor these discharges. The County's discharges of pollutants in storm water, and sewage and associated pollutants, degrade water quality and harm aquatic life in the Receiving Waters, and thus impair Coastkeeper's and CERF's members' use and enjoyment of these waters.

Discharges of polluted storm water and non-storm water from the County's MS4 are pervasive, ongoing and continuous. Thus, the interests of Coastkeeper's and CERF's members have been, are being, and will continue to be adversely affected by the County's failure to comply with the Clean Water Act.

II. THE MUNICIPAL SEPARATE STORM SEWER SYSTEM AND THE COUNTY'S CLEAN WATER ACT VIOLATIONS

A. The County's Municipal Separate Storm Sewer System and the MS4 Permit

The County owns and operates its municipal separate storm sewer system ("County MS4"). An MS4 is defined as "a conveyance or system of conveyances (including roads with drainage systems, municipal streets, catch basins, curbs, gutters, ditches, man-made channels, or storm drains)" owned or operated by a State, city, or town that is designed or used for collecting or conveying stormwater and that discharges to waters of the United States. See 40 C.F.R. § 122.26.(b)(8)(i)-(ii); see also 40 C.F.R. § 122.26(b)(18).⁶

The County MS4 consists of streets, curbs, gutters, drop inlets, catch basins, underground pipes, ditches, concrete channels, pump stations, and other structures that convey stormwater in and around the County. It includes approximately 2,065 miles of linear MS4 systems and 18,973 drainage inlets.⁷ These pipes, ditches, channels, and surface conveyances discharge to the Receiving Waters. Each time it rains, polluted stormwater and non-stormwater discharge from the County MS4 to local waters. Pollutants in these discharges include total suspended solids, sediment, pathogens (e.g., bacteria, viruses, protozoa), heavy metals (e.g., cadmium, copper, lead, and zinc), petroleum products and polynuclear aromatic hydrocarbons, synthetic organics (e.g., pesticides, herbicides, and PCBs), nutrients (e.g., nitrogen and phosphorus), oxygen demanding substances (e.g., decaying vegetation, animal waste), detergents, trash, car maintenance wastes, municipal sewage, household hazardous wastes and pet waste.⁸ Existing monitoring data indicates that discharges of these pollutants through the MS4 cause or contribute to water quality impairments, and are the leading cause of such impairments in the San Diego Region.⁹

Clean Water Act Section 402(p), 33 U.S.C. § 1342(p), establishes a framework for regulating municipal stormwater discharges under NPDES permits. Section 402(p) of the CWA requires an NPDES permit for stormwater discharges from an MS4 to waters of the United States. Section 402(p)(3)(B) sets forth requirements that must be in all MS4 permits, including the obligation to effectively prohibit non-stormwater discharges into the storm sewers and to reduce pollutants in discharges to receiving waters to the maximum extent practicable. 33 U.S.C. § 1342(p)(3)(B).

⁶ An MS4 is further defined as a sewer system that is not a combined sewer, and is not part of a Publicly Owned Treatment Works. See 40 C.F.R. § 122.26(b)(8)(iii)-(iv).

⁹ MS4 Permit at Findings, ¶ 14.

The County is one of 21 cities, towns, or governmental entities in San Diego County that is subject to the terms and conditions of the MS4 Permit, which allows permittees to discharge stormwater runoff from storm drains and other stormwater conveyances within their jurisdictions. The County has jurisdiction over and/or maintenance responsibilities for the County's MS4.¹⁰

B. The County's Sewage Collection System and Sewage Exfiltration to the County's MS4 and Receiving Waters

The County's wastewater collection and conveyance system ("Collection System") services approximately 50,000 customers in unincorporated areas of the county, including nine (9) services areas collectively referred to as the County's "Sanitation District".¹¹ Altogether, the County-owned and operated Collection System is comprised of approximately 432 miles of sewer lines, 8,200 manholes, 12 lift stations, and 3 wastewater treatment plants, among other associated infrastructure.¹² The more urbanized Spring Valley and Lakeside districts contain approximately 273 miles and 102 miles of sewer pipelines respectively, generally ranging from 8-inches in diameter to 52-inches in diameter. Sewage collected by the County's Collection System is ultimately either sent to the City of San Diego's Metropolitan Wastewater Department (Metro) system for treatment by inter-jurisdictional agreement,¹³ or is treated at a County-owned and operated wastewater treatment plant. Data available to Citizen Groups also indicates that the majority of the Collection System is comprised of vitrified clay pipes, which are known to be susceptible to cracking and leakage. The Collection System is a point source under the Clean Water Act. See 33 U.S.C. § 1362(14).

During the past five (5) years, the County has self-reported thirty-eight (38) sanitary sewer overflows (SSOs) from its Collection System, discharging 951,686 gallons total of raw sewage. The County self-reported that 929,904 gallons of raw sewage reached surface waters. The majority of SSOs have been caused by root intrusion and indicate structural defects in affected pipe segments. For example, the Regional Board recently issued the County a Notice of Violation for two sanitary sewer overflows (SSO). See Exhibit 2 (NOV No. R9-2020-0170). On April 10th, the County reported two SSOs into Sweetwater River, one of 17,120 gallons and the second of 38,924 gallons of untreated sewage. Id. Both were reported as overflowing manholes due to "excessive infiltration and inflow." Id., pp. 1-2. For one of these SSOs, the County reported the untreated sewage reached the MS4. This type of system failure underscores the County's failure to operate, maintain, and manage its Collection System properly, resulting in discharges of raw sewage to the County MS4 and the Receiving Waters.

Raw sewage discharges from the Collection System underground via structural defects, such as cracks, displaced joints, holes, and other leakage points, as well as through lack of capacity (including excessive infiltration and inflow), in the Collection System. This process is referred to as exfiltration. Raw sewage that exfiltrates from the Collection System in areas where the Collection System is in proximity to the County MS4 or a Receiving Water has the potential to enter untreated into the MS4 or directly into Receiving Waters via cracks, displaced joints, and other compromised portions of the MS4.

¹³ The Alpine, Lakeside, and Spring Valley districts ultimately transport wastewater in the County's Collection System to the Metro system.

C. The Entity Responsible for Operating the County's MS4 and the Collection System

The County of San Diego is a charter county as provided in Article XI, Section 3 of the California Constitution. The County is governed by the Board of Supervisors ("Board") which is made up of five members elected by the citizens of San Diego County. The Board, in turn, appoints a Chief Administrative Officer who is responsible for implementing the policy directives of the Board and managing the day-to-day operations and functions of the County. The Department of Public Works, consisting of four (4) divisions including the Transportation Division, Engineering Services Division, Land Development Division, and Management Services Division (collectively, "Department"), is a department of the County. The County and its Departments have offices at the County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego, CA 92101, and at the County Operations Center, 5500-5610 Overland Avenue and 9325-9355 Hazard Way, San Diego, CA 92123. The current Director of the Department is Brian Albright. The current Chief Administrative Officer is Helen N. Robbins-Meyer. The County and/or its Departments are the owner(s) and/or operator(s) of the County MS4 and the Collection System.

The County and/or the Department are responsible for operating and maintaining the County MS4. Operating and maintaining the MS4 includes tasks such as collecting and conveying stormwater through the MS4, preventing non-stormwater materials (including sewage exfiltrating from the Collection System) from entering the MS4, conducting routine maintenance, cleaning and inspecting the MS4, and responding to citizen complaints related to the storm drain system. Further, the County and/or the Departments are responsible for preventing discharges from the MS4 that violate the MS4 Permit.

The County and/or the Departments are also responsible for operating and maintaining the Collection System, which includes tasks such as, but not limited to, collecting and conveying raw sewage through the Collection System, conducting routine maintenance, cleaning and inspecting the Collection System, designing and implementing necessary capital improvements, and responding to SSOs.

III. THE LOCAL WATERWAYS AND THE MANNER IN WHICH THEY ARE IMPACTED BY THE COUNTY'S CLEAN WATER ACT VIOLATIONS

A. The Receiving Waters

The storm drain pipes and other conveyances in the County MS4 discharge pollutant-laden storm water and non-storm water to scores of waterbodies throughout the County. Receiving Waters downstream from County MS4 outfalls include at least seventy, and likely many more, waterbodies or waterbody segments recognized by California State Water Resources Control Board. See Exhibit 1. For example, numerous County MS4 outfalls discharge directly into both the upper and lower segments of the San Diego River, as well as many of its tributaries. The San Diego River originates in the jurisdiction of the unincorporated County of San Diego in the Cuyamaca Mountains and flows until it reaches the El Capitan Reservoir. Below the El Capitan Dam, the River then continues to run through unincorporated County, the City of Santee, and the City of San Diego through Mission Valley, ultimately discharging into the Pacific Ocean near the entrance to Mission Bay, forming an estuary. Likewise, County MS4 outfalls discharge into the upper and lower segments of the Sweetwater River as well as many of its tributaries. The Sweetwater River also originates in the Cuyamaca Mountains in the unincorporated County of San Diego, flows into the Loveland Reservoir, and then further downstream into the Sweetwater Reservoir. Below the Sweetwater Dam the River flows generally southwest through unincorporated County, National City, and Chula Vista, and the Sweetwater Marsh, eventually emptying into San Diego Bay.

Polluted discharges from the County's MS4 harm the special biological significance of the Receiving Waters throughout the County. Waterbodies in the San Diego region commonly serve as the backbones for surrounding ecosystems, and as such, the Receiving Waters into which the County discharges polluted storm water and non-storm water are ecologically sensitive areas. For example, although pollution and habitat destruction have drastically diminished once-abundant and varied habitats throughout the region, the San Diego River still provides essential habitat for numerous species of birds, mammals, reptiles, amphibians, plants, and invertebrates.¹⁴ Large portions of the San Diego River are designated as Critical Habitat by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. It is home to the federally endangered Least Bell's Vireo, as well as numerous sensitive species included in San Diego's Multiple Species Conservation Program ("MSCP") including the mule deer, mountain lion, golden eagle, California gnatcatcher, and several bat species.¹⁵ The River also provides key habitat linkages to the east and west, allowing species to move freely between core resource areas.¹⁶

Similarly, the Sweetwater River is the lifeblood for a variety of ecosystems that support numerous plant and animal species. A significant portion of the Sweetwater Watershed is protected within the 11,477-acre Otay-Sweetwater Unit of the San Diego National Wildlife Refuge.¹⁷ The Refuge is characterized as "[o]ne of last expanses of open space in coastal southern California, with exceptional biological, social, historical, and economic values."¹⁸ The Refuge provides critical habitat and is home to sixteen federally threatened or endangered species, and at least thirty-five species covered by the MSCP.¹⁹

The Sweetwater River empties directly into the Sweetwater Marsh Unit of the San Diego Bay National Wildlife Refuge, which was specifically established to protect threatened and endangered species.²⁰ The Marsh provides habitat for four such endangered or threatened species,²¹ as well as supports an array of invertebrates and juvenile fish, and provides nesting, foraging, and high water refuge for over 200 species of birds.²² As over ninety percent of the historic wetlands of San Diego Bay have been filled in, drained, or diked, this Refuge provides critical habitat for hundreds of thousands of birds migrating along the Pacific Flyway, as well as for the Bay's resident species.

Storm water and non-storm water contaminated with pathogens, sediment, heavy metals, nutrients, and other pollutants discharged from the County MS4 are deleterious to invertebrates, insects, larval fish, and local vegetation in and around the Receiving Waters such as the San Diego River, Sweetwater River, and San Diego Bay. As such, these pollutants degrade the special biological significance of the habitats surrounding our region's waterbodies, and strain the ecosystems on which numerous species, many of which are categorized as endangered, threatened, or sensitive, depend for survival.

Polluted discharges from the County MS4 also harm the special aesthetic and recreational significance of the Receiving Waters, adversely impacting the public's ability, as well as that of Coastkeeper's and CERF's members, to use and enjoy these unique waterbodies. For example, the San Diego River runs through Mission Trails Regional Park, one of the most popular outdoor recreation destinations in the San Diego region. Mission Trails includes many miles of hiking, biking, and equestrian trails, rock climbing opportunities, and campgrounds along scenic sections of the San Diego River.²³ Similarly, Sweetwater Summit Regional Park, a 500-acre County of San Diego regional park adjacent to the Sweetwater River and Reservoir, offers miles of trails for hikers, cyclists, and equestrians, as well as campgrounds, pavilions, picnic tables, and fishing infrastructure. San Diego Bay is heavily utilized for commercial and sport fishing, shellfish harvesting, and various water-contact recreation such as boating, kayaking, paddle boarding, and swimming. Sweetwater Marsh in particular is used for walking, aesthetic enjoyment, wildlife observation and photography, and environmental education through the Chula Vista Nature Center and Living Coast Discovery Center.

Members of the public, including members of Coastkeeper and CERF, use the Receiving Waters to swim, boat, kayak, surf, bird watch, view wildlife, fish, hike, bike, walk, run, and/or for general aesthetic enjoyment, among other recreational activities. Additionally, members of Coastkeeper and CERF use the Receiving Waters to engage in scientific study through pollution and habitat monitoring and restoration activities. Pollutants discharged from the County MS4 affect the health of the Receiving Waters, rendering such waters unsafe for human contact, and degrading the plant and animal life of the surrounding habitats. Public concern regarding elevated pollutants levels in the Receiving Waters, and damage to the surrounding natural habitats, and thus the flora and fauna within them, harms the ability of the public, including Coastkeeper's and CERF's members' ability, to use and enjoy these unique recreational opportunities. Further, Coastkeeper's and CERF's members are less likely to recreate in and around such waters that are known to be polluted with harmful pathogens, toxic metals, excessive nutrients, sediments, and other pollutants.

B. Water Quality Standards and Impairment of the Receiving Waters

The Water Quality Control Plan for the San Diego Basin ("Basin Plan") designates beneficial uses and water quality objectives for waters receiving discharges from the Collection System and the County's MS4. "Beneficial uses are defined as uses of water necessary for the survival or well-being of man, plants and wildlife. These uses of water serve to promote the tangible and intangible economic, social and environmental goals of mankind." Basin Plan at 2-1. "Once beneficial uses are designated, appropriate water quality objectives can be established and programs that maintain or enhance water quality can be implemented to ensure the protection of beneficial uses." Id. For example, the existing beneficial uses for various sections of the San Diego River include contact water recreation; non-contact water recreation; warm freshwater habitat; cold freshwater habitat; wildlife habitat; preservation of biological habitats of special significance; rare, threatened, or endangered species; municipal and domestic supply; agricultural supply; industrial service supply; and industrial process supply. The existing beneficial uses for various sections of the Sweetwater River include contact water recreation; non-contact water recreation; warm freshwater habitat; cold freshwater habitat; wildlife habitat; preservation of biological habitats of special significance; rare, threatened, or endangered species; spawning, reproduction, and/or early development; municipal and domestic supply; agricultural supply; industrial service supply; and industrial process supply. The existing beneficial uses for the San Diego Bay include industrial service supply; navigation; contact water recreation; non-contact water recreation; commercial and sport fishing; preservation of biological habitats of special significance; rare, threatened, or endangered species; estuarine habitat; wildlife habitat; marine habitat; migration of aquatic organisms; spawning, reproduction, and/or early development; and shellfish harvesting. See Basin Plan Tables 2-2 and 2-3.

²³ City of San Diego, Mission Trails Regional Park, <https://www.sandiego.gov/park-and-recreation/parks/osp/mtrails> (last visited Sep. 1, 2020).

The Basin Plan provides narrative and numeric water quality objectives to define appropriate environmental quality and to control activities that can adversely affect aquatic systems. Water quality objectives are necessary to protect the present and potential beneficial uses.²⁴ As such, the Basin Plan's numeric objectives describe pollutant concentration, physical/chemical conditions of the water itself, and the toxicity of the water to aquatic organisms, and are designed to represent the maximum amount of pollutants that can remain in the water column without adversely effecting aquatic organisms, people consuming those organisms or water, and other current or potential beneficial uses.

Chapter 3 of the Basin Plan provides numeric water quality objectives for bacteria, specifically fecal coliform, total coliform, enterococcus, and e. coli. Chapter 3, page 3-7 of the Basin Plan provides the EPA's bacteriological criteria for water contact recreation based on the frequency of use a particular area receives. Water quality objectives for bacteria on page 3-7 of the Basin Plan shall be strictly applied. See generally, Basin Plan Chapter 3; Chapter 4, Waste Discharge Prohibitions (5), at 4-19 ("The discharge of waste to inland surface waters, except in cases where the quality of the discharge complies with applicable receiving water quality objectives, is prohibited.").

In August 2018, the State Water Resources Control Board, adopted Part 3 of the Water Quality Control Plan for Inland Surface Waters, Enclosed Bays, and Estuaries of California: Bacteria Provisions and a Water Quality Standards Variance Policy ("Bacteria Provisions"), which applies to all surface waters, enclosed bays, and estuaries of the state that have the water contact recreation beneficial use, including the Receiving Waters. The Bacteria Provisions establish numeric water quality objectives for E. Coli and enterococci. See State Water Resources Control Board, Part 3 of the Water Quality Control Plan for Inland Surface Waters, Enclosed Bays, and Estuaries of California: Bacteria Provisions and a Water Quality Standards Variance Policy.

Information available to Citizen Groups documents the presence of fecal indicator bacteria in the Receiving Waters following modest storm events and even during dry weather at concentrations orders of magnitude greater than water quality standards for water contact recreation for E. Coli, enterococci, fecal coliform, and total coliform. Targeted epidemiological studies have shown a number of adverse health outcomes associated with fecally-polluted recreational water. Such health impacts result in a significant burden of disease and economic loss. Studies conducted worldwide have correlated gastrointestinal symptoms to recreating in water with high bacterial counts.²⁵ California-specific studies show a higher incidence of upper respiratory and gastrointestinal symptoms associated with swimming in the vicinity of storm drains contaminated with high bacteria counts.²⁶

Chapter 3 of the Basin Plan also provides numeric water quality objectives for many other pollutants including phosphorus, nitrogen, iron, and total dissolved solids. Excess concentrations of nutrients such as phosphorus and nitrogen can reduce levels of dissolved oxygen and cause hypoxia or harmful algal blooms that can create toxins.²⁷ Such toxins can move up the food chain.²⁸ High nitrogen and phosphorus loadings also result in reduced spawning grounds and nursery habitats, fish kills, and public health concerns related to impaired drinking water sources and increased exposure to toxic microbes, thus affecting several beneficial uses.²⁹ Iron is undesirable in domestic water supplies because it causes unpleasant tastes, deposits on food during cooking, stains and discolors laundry and plumbing fixtures.³⁰ High total dissolved solids concentrations in irrigation waters can be deleterious to plants directly, or indirectly through adverse effects on soil permeability.³¹

Similarly, the California Toxics Rule (“CTR”)³² establishes numeric criteria for priority toxic pollutants in the State of California, including copper and zinc. Copper is toxic to aquatic organisms at higher concentrations, which can lead to mortality, adverse effects on survival, growth, reproduction as well as alterations of brain function, enzyme activity, blood chemistry, and metabolism.³³ Excessive concentrations of zinc negatively influence the survivability of some plant species, as well as microorganism activity which can thus stall the decay of organic materials and affect ecosystem health.

Both dry and wet weather monitoring data from Receiving Waters throughout San Diego County demonstrate that, in addition to indicator bacteria, phosphorus, nitrogen, iron, total dissolved solids, copper, and zinc are frequently present in concentrations exceeding respective Basin Plan water quality objectives and CTR numeric criteria. Contaminated creeks, streams, rivers, and reservoirs run through the County’s jurisdiction, posing public health threats, particularly to children, and significantly diminishing recreation-based beneficial uses. Downstream bays, lagoons, and coastal waterways similarly suffer from contamination and pose public health threats and significantly diminish recreation-based beneficial uses.

In light of the aforementioned excessive pollutant loads, many of the Receiving Waters are listed on the State of California’s 2014/2016 Clean Water Act Section 303(d) list of impaired waterbodies – those waterbodies that cannot support their designated beneficial uses. See Exhibit 3 (listing all 303(d) impairments for each Receiving Water segment downstream of monitored County MS4 outfalls). For example, the upper segment of the San Diego River is impaired for indicator bacteria, dissolved oxygen, and sulfates. The lower segment of the San Diego River is impaired for dissolved oxygen, indicator bacteria, benthic community effects, cadmium, nitrogen, phosphorus, total dissolved solids, and toxicity. The upper segment of the Sweetwater River is impaired for aluminum, indicator bacteria, benthic community effects, selenium, and total nitrogen as N. The lower segment of the Sweetwater River is impaired for indicator bacteria, benthic community effects, selenium, toxicity, chlorpyrifos, nitrogen, phosphorus, and total dissolved solids. The greater San Diego Bay is impaired for polychlorinated biphenyls (“PCBs”), mercury, and polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons (“PAHs”), and other specific locations of San Diego Bay are impaired for indicator bacteria, copper, benthic community effects, sediment toxicity, and chlordane.

Information available to Citizen Groups, including Coastkeeper’s monitoring data reported in the California Environmental Data Exchange Network (“CEDEN”), indicates that many other Receiving Waters are impaired, and that 303(d) listed waters are impaired for additional pollutants. For example, the Otay River is not 303(d) listed as impaired for any pollutants in the 2014/2016 integrated report. However, Coastkeeper’s monitoring data demonstrates that Otay River is impaired for indicator bacteria such as E. Coli and enterococcus, as well as nutrients such as nitrogen and phosphorus.³⁴

C. MS4 Discharges' Impacts on Receiving Waters and their Beneficial Uses

Information available to Citizen Groups demonstrates that the County, through its MS4, has discharged and continues to discharge numerous pollutants in concentrations exceeding applicable water quality standards. The County's own publicly available MS4 outfall monitoring data shows County MS4 storm water and non-storm water discharges containing elevated levels of e. coli, enterococcus, fecal coliform, total coliform, phosphorus, nitrogen, iron, total dissolved solids, copper, zinc, and other pollutants into numerous downstream Receiving Waters throughout the county. Exhibit 4. Most notably, the vast majority of the County's dry-weather and wet-weather MS4 outfall samples for e. coli, enterococcus, fecal coliform, and total coliform exceeded respective Basin Plan water quality objectives, and many such samples exceeded those objectives by orders of magnitude.

Furthermore, during the 2017-2018 and 2018-2019 wet seasons, Coastkeeper collected water quality samples from one (1) of County's MS4 outfalls and within the San Diego River³⁵, as well as one (1) of County's MS4 outfalls and within the Sweetwater River.³⁶ Sampling results demonstrated the presence of fecal indicator bacteria and nutrients at concentrations that were orders of magnitude greater than numeric water quality objectives for water contact and noncontact recreation. In addition, the samples tested positive for a human indicator for bacteria, and results from both sampling locations indicated levels of human fecal biomarkers (i.e., humans are a source of the bacterial pollution). See Exhibit 5 attached hereto. The County's San Luis Rey River wet weather characterization study also indicates Fallbrook outfalls SLR-05 and SLR14 are a source of HF183 loading.³⁷ Lastly, the County's monitoring data from the San Diego River and its tributaries further confirms human sources of bacteria pollution. (Exhibit 5). This data indicates that the County's MS4 discharges are causing and contributing to exceedances of fecal indicator bacteria water quality objectives in the Receiving Waters.

Urban stormwater runoff and dry weather discharges are recognized sources of impairing pollutants, including human fecal matter. The discharge of urban stormwater runoff, dry weather discharges, and raw and/or inadequately-treated sewage via the MS4 harms the Receiving Waters and poses a serious risk to fisheries, wildlife habitat, and human health.

Raw sewage and associated pollutants from the Collection System that enter the County MS4 via exfiltration or other means are a significant source of pollutants (and constitute non-stormwater discharges to the MS4) that are then discharged to the Receiving Waters. Raw sewage contains human waste, viruses, protozoa, mold spores, bacteria, and chemicals that cause cancer or reproductive toxicity. These chemicals come from solvents, detergents, cleansers, inks, pesticides, paints, pharmaceuticals, and other chemicals used by households and businesses and then discarded to sewage collection systems.³⁸ High concentrations of these pollutants are typically found in raw and/or inadequately-treated sewage. Exfiltrating raw sewage enters the County MS4 and then subsequently flows directly or with stormwater to surface waters, resulting in the addition of these pollutants to the Receiving Waters.³⁹ The pollutants for which the Receiving Waters are impaired can be found in discharges of raw and/or inadequately-treated sewage.

Further, the intensive use of San Diego Bay and the coastal waters of San Diego County and their tributaries for commercial and sport fishing, shellfish harvesting, and water-contact recreation increases the likelihood that people will come into direct contact with fecal matter and other pollutants in stormwater and non-stormwater discharged by the County. Polluted stormwater and non-stormwater discharges also affect people who eat fish caught in the Receiving Waters. Toxic chemicals bio-accumulate in San Diego Bay's food web; i.e., contaminants absorbed by plankton accumulate in fish and birds farther up the food chain and ultimately transfer to human consumers. Contamination of fish is particularly damaging to ethnic and economic minorities, who eat a greater-than-average amount of locally-caught fish.

MS4s commonly discharge pollutants such as pathogens (e.g., bacteria, viruses, protozoa), heavy metals (e.g., copper, and zinc), and nutrients (e.g., nitrogen and phosphorus), as well as petroleum products, pesticides, herbicides, oxygen demanding substances, detergents, and trash.⁴⁰ Moreover, the MS4 Permit itself acknowledges that monitoring data demonstrates "persistent exceedances of Basin Plan water quality objectives" for these runoff-related pollutants, and that "bioassessment data indicate that the majority of the monitored receiving waters have Poor to Very Poor Index of Biological Integrity (IBI) ratings."⁴¹ "These findings indicate that runoff discharges are causing or contributing to water quality impairments, and are a leading cause of such impairments in the San Diego Region."⁴²

By discharging urban stormwater runoff, dry weather non-stormwater discharges, and raw and/or inadequately-treated sewage and associated pollutants into the County's MS4 system that directly flows to waters of the United States, the County has caused and/or contributed to the continuing impairment of Receiving Waters in violation of the MS4 Permit and Clean Water Act.

IV. CLEAN WATER ACT VIOLATIONS

A. The County Discharges of Polluted Water in Violation of Receiving Water Limitations II.A.2.a.(1), II.A.2.a.(2)(b), and II.A.2.a.(4)(b) of the MS4 Permit and the Clean Water Act.

Receiving Water Limitation a.(1) prohibits discharges that cause or contribute to the violation of water quality standards in any receiving waters, including the Basin Plan beneficial uses, water quality objectives, and implementation plans.⁴³ Receiving Water Limitations a.(2)(b) and a.(4)(b) further prohibit discharges that cause or contribute to the violation of water quality standards in any receiving waters as set forth in the Water Quality Control Plan Ocean Waters of California ("Ocean Plan") and the CTR, respectively.⁴⁴ Discharges that contain pollutants in excess of an applicable water quality standard violate Receiving Water Limitation a.(1), a.(2)(b) and a.(4)(b) of the MS4 Permit and the Clean Water Act.

The County's own MS4 outfall monitoring data, as well as data collected by Coastkeeper, demonstrate that discharges from the County's MS4 contain elevated concentrations of pollutants, such as total coliform, fecal coliform, E. Coli, and enterococci, at levels exceeding applicable water quality standards by orders of magnitude. See, e.g., Exhibit 4 (listing results of water quality monitoring); see also Bacteria Provisions; Basin Plan at 3-7, 3-8. Discharges with elevated levels of bacteria and other pollutants adversely affect the beneficial uses of the Receiving Waters, and thus violate Receiving Water Limitation a.(1) and a.(2)(b) of the MS4 Permit and the Clean Water Act. As explained above, numerous Receiving Waters are impaired, and thus unable to support the designated Beneficial Uses, for some of the same pollutants discharged by the County, including bacteria. See Exhibit 3 (listing the impairments for each of the downstream Receiving Waters). For example, the upper and lower segments of both the San Diego River and the Sweetwater River are impaired for indicator bacteria. The vast majority of the County's samples of MS4 outfalls that discharge into the San Diego River or Sweetwater River, which includes hundreds of data points, exceed Basin Plan water quality objectives for various indicator bacteria. In addition, almost every sample collected by Coastkeeper from County MS4 outfalls that discharge into the San Diego River or Sweetwater River also exceeded water quality objectives for indicator bacteria. Thus, the County's discharges from its MS4 outfalls with concentrations of total coliform, fecal coliform, e. coli, and enterococci that exceed water quality objectives of the Basin Plan demonstrate that County's discharges cause or contribute to a violation of an applicable water quality standard, in violation of Receiving Water Limitation a.(1) and a.(2)(b) of the MS4 Permit and the Clean Water Act.

* Seven samples with negative values removed from Fecal Coliform analysis

The County's MS4 outfall monitoring data also demonstrates that discharges from the County's MS4 frequently contain phosphorus, nitrogen, iron, total dissolved solids, copper, and zinc in concentrations exceeding respective Basin Plan water quality objectives and CTR numeric criteria. Many Receiving Waters downstream from County MS4 outfalls are impaired for the same pollutants discharged by the County in concentrations exceeding respective water quality standards. For example, the upper segment of the Sweetwater River is impaired for nitrogen, and the lower segments of the Sweetwater River and San Diego River are impaired for both nitrogen and phosphorus. The vast majority of the County's MS4 outfall samples which discharged into the San Diego River or Sweetwater River exceed Basin Plan water quality objectives for nitrogen and phosphorus. See Exhibit 4. The County's numerous discharges of many pollutants in exceedance of water quality standards in Receiving Waters throughout San Diego County indicate that the County has violated and continues to violate Receiving Water Limitation a.(1) and a.(2)(b) of the MS4 Permit and the Clean Water Act.

* Four samples with zero values removed from analysis

Information available to Citizen Groups, including County's own monitoring data, indicates that discharges from the County's MS4 regularly violate Receiving Water Limitations a.(1) and a.(2)(b) at numerous County MS4 outfalls during both wet weather and dry weather conditions. County's own monitoring data indicates that these violations are pervasive, ongoing, and will continue each time contaminated water is discharged in violation of Receiving Water Limitations a.(1) and a.(2)(b) of the MS4 Permit and Section 301(a) of the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. § 1311(a). Each time discharges from any County MS4 outfall cause or contribute to a violation of an applicable water quality standard is a separate and distinct violation of Receiving Water Limitation a.(1) and a.(2)(b) of the MS4 Permit and Section 301(a) of the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. § 1311(a). The County is subject to civil penalties for all violations of the Clean Water Act occurring in the five (5) years prior to the date of this Notice Letter.

B. The County Discharges of Polluted Water in Violation of Discharge Prohibitions II.A.1.a. and II.A.1.c. of the MS4 Permit and the Clean Water Act.

Section II.A.1 of the MS4 Permit contains several Discharge Prohibitions. Discharge prohibition II.A.1.a. prohibits discharges from MS4s in a manner causing, or threatening to cause, a condition of pollution, contamination, or nuisance in Receiving Waters. Discharge Prohibition II.A.1.c subjects all discharges from MS4s to all waste discharge prohibitions in the Basin Plan, which are included in Attachment A to the MS4 Permit. Basin Plan Waste Discharge Prohibition 1 is extremely similar to Section II.A.1 of the MS4 Permit, and prohibits "[t]he discharge of waste to waters of the state in a manner causing, or threatening to cause a condition of pollution, contamination or nuisance as defined in California Water Code Section 13050." The California Water Code defines "contamination" as "an impairment of the quality of the waters of the state by waste to a degree which creates a hazard to the public health through poisoning or through the spread of disease." "Pollution" is defined as "an alteration of the quality of the waters of the state by waste to a degree which unreasonably affects . . . [t]he waters for beneficial uses." As previously discussed, the County has discharged, and continues to discharge, numerous pollutants including total coliform, fecal coliform, E. Coli, and enterococci, phosphorus, nitrogen, iron, total dissolved solids, copper, and zinc in concentrations far exceeding various water quality standards which were promulgated specifically to protect human health and the environment, as well as the Beneficial Uses of Receiving Waters. Further, discharges with elevated levels of bacteria and other pollutants are per se nuisances, and cause or threaten to cause contamination and pollution. As such, the County's MS4 discharges have caused or threatened to cause conditions of pollution, contamination, and/or nuisance in violation of MS4 Permit and Basin Plan Discharge Prohibitions.

Waste Discharge Prohibition 5 of the Basin Plan states, "the discharge of waste to inland surface waters, except in cases where the quality of the discharge complies with the applicable receiving water quality objectives, is prohibited. Allowances for dilution may be made at the discretion of the Regional Board."⁴⁵ "Waste" is defined as, "waste substances, liquid, solid, gaseous, or radioactive, associated with human habitation, or of human or animal origin, or from any producing, manufacturing, or processing operation," and includes both pollutants in storm water and raw sewage. Accordingly, where the "quality of the discharge" does not meet receiving water quality objectives, the discharge, absent an express allowance for dilution by the San Diego Regional Water Quality Control Board is prohibited by Discharge Prohibition II.A.1.c. of the MS4 Permit. There exists no express allowance for dilution by the San Diego Regional Water Quality Control Board. Further, Waste Discharge Prohibition 9 of the Basin Plan states, "[t]he unauthorized discharge of treated or untreated sewage to waters of the state or to a storm water conveyance system is prohibited."⁴⁶ The County's discharges from its MS4 outfalls with concentrations of pollutants such as phosphorus, nitrogen, iron, and total dissolved solids, and particularly total coliform, fecal coliform, e. coli, and enterococci, that exceed Basin Plan water quality objectives demonstrate that the County's discharges violate Basin Plan Discharge Prohibitions 1 and 5, and thus violate Discharge Prohibition II.A.1.c. of the MS4 Permit and the Clean Water Act. Similarly, the County's discharges of treated or untreated sewage to the Receiving Waters or to its MS4 violate Basin Plan Discharge Prohibition 9, and thus also violate Discharge Prohibition II.A.1.c. of the MS4 Permit and the Clean Water Act.

⁴⁶ See also, MS4 Permit, Attachment A.

Information available to Citizen Groups, including County's own monitoring data, indicates that discharges from the County's MS4 regularly violate Discharge Prohibitions II.A.1.a. and II.A.1.c. at numerous County MS4 outfalls during both wet weather and dry weather conditions. These violations are pervasive, ongoing, and will continue each time contaminated or polluted water is discharged in violation of Discharge Prohibitions II.A.1.a. and II.A.1.c. of the MS4 Permit and Section 301(a) of the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. § 1311(a). Each time discharges from any County MS4 outfall cause, or threaten to cause, a condition of pollution, contamination, or nuisance in Receiving Waters is a separate and distinct violation of Discharge Prohibition II.A.1.a. of the MS4 Permit and Section 301(a) of the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. § 1311(a). Each time the County discharges pollutants in concentrations exceeding receiving water quality objectives and/or discharges treated or untreated sewage to waters of the state or to the MS4 is a separate and distinct violation of Discharge Prohibition II.A.1.c. The County is subject to civil penalties for all violations of the Clean Water Act occurring in the five (5) years prior to the date of this Notice Letter.

C. The County's Non-Stormwater Discharges to and from the County MS4 in Violation of Discharge Prohibitions II.A.1.b. of the MS4 Permit and the Clean Water Act.

The MS4 Permit contains prohibitions and limitations on the discharge of pollutants into and from the County MS4. See MS4 Permit, Discharge Prohibitions and Attachment A, Waste Discharge Prohibitions 8 and 9. Discharge Prohibitions II.A.1.b. of the MS4 Permit requires that the County effectively prohibit the discharges of non-stormwater into the County MS4. Discharge Prohibition II.A.1.b. of the MS4 Permit also requires that County effectively prohibit discharges of non-stormwater from the County MS4 to surface waterbodies. As explained below, County has violated and continues to violate this provision by failing to effectively prohibit the discharge of non-stormwater into and out of the County MS4.

Information available to Citizen Groups demonstrates that dry weather flows (i.e., non-stormwater discharges) from the County's MS4 to surface waterbodies cause and contribute to pollution, contamination, nuisance, and water quality standard exceedances in the Receiving Waters. According to the MS4 Permit, weather is considered "dry" if the preceding 72 hours has been without measurable precipitation (>0.1 inch). Information available to Citizen Groups, including the County's own dry weather monitoring data submitted to CEDEN, shows that non-stormwater discharges are entering into and being discharged from County outfalls. Further, many dry weather outfall samples exceed water quality objectives for total coliform, fecal coliform, e. coli, enterococcus, nitrogen, phosphorus, iron, and total dissolved solids, indicating that County's MS4 discharges are causing and contributing to exceedances of water quality objectives in the Receiving Waters. See Exhibit 4.

Information available to Citizen Groups indicates that urban runoff containing fecal matter, nutrients, pesticides, toxic metals, and other pollutants enters the County MS4 during both wet and dry weather. Information available to Citizen Groups indicates water containing pollutants, including nutrients, from residential, commercial, and industrial over-irrigation and runoff enter into and is discharges from the County MS4. For example, the Regional Board's audit of the County's active and effective implementation of the MS4 Permit over-irrigation prohibition. See Exhibit 6, Regional MS4 Permit Audit of Discharge Prohibition County of San Diego. The Regional Board's overall assessment of the County's program was that it was "ineffective." Notably, the Regional Board expressed concern that "the County will not make progress towards reducing identified priority water quality condition pollutants of bacteria, sediment, and nutrients from existing residential areas without making significant changes to the implementation of its jurisdictional program so that its JRMP is consistent with the County's WQIP strategies." Id., p. 10.

Further, information available to Citizen Groups indicates that raw sewage exfiltrates from the Collection System and enters the County MS4 every day. In County's Collection System, there is a high risk of exfiltration to the County MS4 wherever a compromised sanitary sewer pipe is located above and within five (5) meters laterally of a compromised section of storm drain pipe.⁴⁷ Raw sewage that enters storm drain pipes via exfiltration is a non-stormwater discharge to the County's MS4 that the County is not effectively prohibiting as required by the MS4 Permit.⁴⁸

Information available to Citizen Groups indicates that over-irrigation, raw sewage, and associated pollutants that reach the County MS4 are discharged to the Receiving Waters in violation of Discharge Prohibition II.A.1.b. of the MS4 Permit. These illegal discharges occur when raw sewage, over-irrigation, and other non-stormwater runoff enters the County MS4 via exfiltration or other means and is subsequently discharged to Receiving Waters. Information available to Citizen Groups, including the County's own monitoring data and the Regional Board's indicates the County's program for prohibiting raw sewage and over-irrigation from discharging from the MS4 to Receiving Waters is not effective.

County's discharges of non-stormwater from the County MS4 to Receiving Waters are ongoing and continuous. County's own monitoring data demonstrates that dry weather discharges are consistent and pervasive at numerous locations within the County's MS4. In addition, these discharges demonstrate that County fails to effectively prohibit discharges into and from the County MS4 as required by the MS4 Permit. Each non-stormwater discharge, at each separate MS4 outfall location, is itself a violation of Discharge Prohibition II.A.1.b. of the MS4 Permit. County has therefore been in daily and continuous violation of Discharge Prohibition II.A.1.b. of the MS4 Permit every day since at least five years prior to the date of this Notice. Each day and/or occasion that County has discharged and continues to discharge non-stormwater into or from the County MS4 in violation of the MS4 Permit's Discharge Prohibition II.A.1.b. is a separate and distinct violation of the Clean Water Act. County's violations will continue each day and/or occasion that County fails to effectively prohibit the discharge of raw sewage, over-irrigation, and other non-stormwater into or from the County MS4 in violation of the requirements of the MS4 Permit and the Clean Water Act. County is subject to civil penalties for all violations of the Clean Water Act occurring in the five (5) years prior to the date of this Notice Letter.

VII. REMEDIES

Upon expiration of the 60-day notice period, Coastkeeper and CERF will file a citizen suit enforcement action pursuant to Section 505(a) of the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. § 1365(a), for the above-referenced violations. Coastkeeper and CERF will seek injunctive relief preventing further violations of the Clean Water Act pursuant to Sections 505(a) and (d), 33 U.S.C. § 1365(a) and (d), declaratory relief, and such other relief as permitted by law. Pursuant to Section 309(d) of the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. § 1319(d), and the Adjustment of Civil Monetary Penalties for Inflation, 40 C.F.R. § 19.4, each separate violation of the Clean Water Act subjects the violator to a penalty for all violations occurring during the period commencing five (5) years prior to the date of a notice of intent to file suit letter. The Clean Water Act imposes civil penalty liability of up to $37,500 per day per violation for violations occurring between January 12, 2009 and November 2, 2015, and up to $55,800 per day per violation for violations occurring after November 2, 2015. 33 U.S.C. § 1319(d); 40 C.F.R. §§ 19.1-19.4. Lastly, pursuant to Section 505(d) of the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. § 1365(d), Coastkeeper and CERF will seek to recover their costs, including attorneys' and experts' fees, associated with this enforcement action.

Coastkeeper and CERF recognize attainment of water quality objectives does not happen overnight. However, the Clean Water Act was amended in 1987 to address and regulate discharges of storm from municipal storm sewers. A general lack of meaningful action by the County (and the other copermittees) for over three decades has resulted in few substantive steps towards achieving improvements in the quality of receiving waters or storm water discharges from the MS4s.⁴⁹ We also understand a critical factor in the County's storm water program effectiveness is the lack of political will to create a long-term funding source for constructing and maintaining structural BMPs⁵⁰ and otherwise ensuring compliance with water quality objectives. Nonetheless, meaningful opportunities to improve water quality exist today. Coastkeeper and CERF prefer to work collaboratively with the County to explore such opportunities. To that end, Coastkeeper and CERF urge the County to begin settlement discussions immediately to explore effective remedies for the violations described in this Notice Letter.

⁴⁹ MS4 Permit Fact Sheet, p. F-13.

⁵⁰ See, e.g., San Diego Bay WQIP, p. 4-52, Table 4-12, FN 5.

If the County wishes to pursue such discussions in the absence of litigation, please contact our counsel as soon as possible in order to come to agreement prior to the end of the 60-day notice period.
