Joint Statement on Additional Loan Accommodations Related to Covid-19

The Federal Financial Institutions Examination Council on behalf of its members (collectively referred to as FFIEC members) issued a joint statement to provide prudent risk management and consumer protection principles for financial institutions to consider while working with borrowers as loans near the end of initial loan accommodation periods applicable during the COVID-19 pandemic. The principles are consistent with Interagency Guidelines Establishing Standards for Safety and Soundness and are generally applicable to both commercial and retail loan accommodations. The principles in the joint statement are intended to be tailored to a financial institution's size, complexity, and loan portfolio risk profile, as well as the industry and business focus of its customers or members. Community Bank Sentiment Index

The Conference of State Bank Supervisors reported that the latest quarterly value of the Community Bank Sentiment Index (CBSI) was 90. The CBSI is down slightly from the previous historic low reading of 91 for the first quarter 2020, and is down considerably from last year's index of 122. The latest survey indicates that community bankers from across the nation remain unsettled and continue to have a mostly negative sentiment as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic and subsequent economic disruptions. The chart below outlines the second quarter 2020 CBSI. A link to further analysis of the CBSI and the components of the index can be accessed here.

The Federal Reserve Board Announces an Extension Through

The Federal Reserve Board announced an extension through December 31, 2020 of its lending facilities that were scheduled to expire on September 30, 2020. The three-month extension will facilitate planning by potential facility participants and provide certainty that the facilities will continue to be available to help the economy recover from the COVID-19 Pandemic. FinCEN Advisory on Cybercrime and Cyber-Enabled Crime Exploiting the COVID-19 Pandemic

The Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN) issued an advisory to alert financial institutions to potential indicators of cybercrime and cyber-enabled crime observed during the COVID-19 pandemic. Many illicit actors are engaged in fraudulent schemes that exploit vulnerabilities created by the pandemic. The advisory contains descriptions of COVID-19 related malicious cyber activity and scams, associated financial red flag indicators, and information on reporting suspicious activity. Interagency Lending Principles for Offering Responsible Small-Dollar Loans

The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the National Credit Union Administration, and the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (collectively, “the agencies”) issued principles to encourage financial institutions to offer responsible small-dollar loans to customers for both consumer and small business purposes. The agencies recognize the important role that responsibly offered small-dollar loans can play in helping customers meet their ongoing needs for credit due to temporary cash-flow imbalances, unexpected expenses, or income shortfalls, including during periods of economic stress, national emergencies, or disaster recoveries. Well-designed small-dollar lending programs can result in successful repayment outcomes that facilitate a customer’s ability to demonstrate positive credit behavior and transition into additional financial products. A link to the guidance can be accessed below.
