Des Plaines officers responded to a suspicious circumstance in the 800 block of Hollywood Avenue after a caller reported screaming in a parking lot. Officers located two females inside a vehicle, where a passenger, identified as Ramon Oscar Vale-Hernandez, was reported to have been acting irrationally, refusing to exit the vehicle, and battering one of the occupants. When officers attempted to investigate, Ramon ignored commands, walked toward a residence, and resisted efforts to detain her by dropping to the ground, hiding her arms, and attempting to pull away. During the struggle she bit another individual at the scene and kicked an officer. Officers were able to restrain Ramon and take her into custody. During transport to the station, Ramon spat on an officer. Felony review approved two counts of aggravated battery to a peace officer, and Ramon was also charged with two counts of resisting or obstructing a peace officer. Ramon was transported to the Cook County Courthouse for detention hearing.
