Thursday, November 13, 2025, 4:00 - 7:00 p.m.: “Your Style, Expertly Layered: The Magic of Bespoke Design with a Designer’s Eye,” Conversation & Book Signing (Open to the Public)

“Your Style, Expertly Layered: The Magic of Bespoke Design with a Designer’s Eye” invites the public to the IDC for a ticketed cocktail party to peruse designer tabletop displays and hear from special guest speaker, designer Kendall Wilkinson.

Intent on creating luxury interior spaces that reflect the lives of the people who live there, Kendall Wilkinson formed a design firm around one central theme: Individualism. With an emphasis on quality materials, customization and comfort, each intriguing space is created with intention and thoughtfulness around the clients that call these rooms home. Kendall's book, Beauty All Around, was published in May 2025. The book explores her collaborative approach, transforming dreams into beautiful homes. Inspired by generations of strong women, Wilkinson's family history helped to form the aesthetic principles she holds today.

A portion of the proceeds will benefit the Habitat for Humanity Women Build program, which as the event celebrates women and design, is a natural fit. Says Abri Hochstetler, vice president of development and communications at Greater Indy Habitat for Humanity, "We are honored that Habitat and Women Build will benefit from this great event at the Indiana Design Center."
