- Fully funded by HHS at least through November 2021
- Battelle is petitioning HHS to expand scope and duration
- Pooled PCR screening testing
- Schools can register directly via <https://testedandprotected.org/#/>

A screenshot of the Midwest Expanded Testing Coordination Center website. The header includes the Midwest Coordination Center logo and navigation links for Home, About, and Resources. A "Login" button is in the top right. The main content area has a dark blue background with white text. It says "WELCOME TO THE Midwest Expanded Testing Coordination Center" and "Health and Human Services' expanded COVID-19 testing coordination center for congregate settings and local school districts." On the right, there is a registration form with the question "Interested in Registering for COVID-19 Testing?", a dropdown menu for "Where are you located?", a "Request to Register" button, and a link for "Already registered? Login". Below this, a section titled "Who is the Coordination Hub for?" features three icons: a graduation cap for "School Districts", a group of people for "Congregate Settings", and a family for "Parents, Guardians, and Residents".
