

Kentucky Continuous Improvement Summit 2020

Educators don't just fall into this profession—they're made for it. And the path forward for all educators is ever evolving. To lead today's institutions requires meeting students' current needs while navigating unprecedented change and creating new visions for the future. Let's explore these themes together at the Cognia™ and Kentucky Department of Education continuous improvement summit, Leading the Way, where you'll:

- Gain helpful strategies to create a system of Continuous Improvement
- Learn how to implement quality Non Traditional Instruction (NTI) programs
- Hear from fellow Kentucky educators as they highlight best practices from across the state
- Receive information about the Improvement Planning process for the 20-21 school year
- Learn about upcoming changes to the accountability system from SB 158
- Gain resources that will help you develop an intervention plan to help with the loss of instruction from COVID-19
- See how Cognia resources help meet students' current and future needs

During the Kentucky Continuous Improvement Summit, KDE leaders will provide all the up-to-date information you need to effectively lead your district, school or classroom during the 2020-2021 school year and beyond. Educators from across the state of Kentucky will connect and network during this two-day event. Do not miss out on the opportunity to learn from experts and peers to enhance your continuous improvement efforts. This year also marks a century-and-a-quarter of Cognia guiding and supporting excellence in education through accreditation and continuous improvement. Cognia's 125-year history grounds them with the knowledge to support institutions today, and the perspective to envision strategies for the future. Together, at this summit, we'll address the educational ecosystem, discuss emerging global and technological trends, and identify potential impacts of these uncertain times. Don't miss the opportunity to learn from experts and peers to enhance your continuous improvement efforts.
