The exhibition Kin Killin' Kin is a striking visual experience exploring youth violence communities. Artist James Pate uses charcoal to create compelling visual scenes combining the iconography of the Ku Klux Klan, the Civil Rights Movement, and all too familiar images of violence. Pate's artwork places the viewer inside the acts of violence and the conversation, demanding their attention and reflection on the challenges, causes, and insidious nature of violence. This exhibit is appropriate for ages 13 and up.

Portland Historical Highway Marker Unveiling Saturday, September 29 at 11:00am 15th Street & Portland Avenue

Louisville to Portland Turnpike

By the late eighteenth century, large boats carried people and products to villages dotting the banks of the Ohio River. Yet the boats had to halt at the 26' drop at the Falls of the Ohio where Louisville is today. Draymen portaged freight to the bottom of the Falls where Portland emerged to service traffic. Horse drawn wagons slogged along dirt paths until a plank toll road connected the cities. The 3 mile long Turnpike opened 1818 and greatly reduced the time it took to make the trip. After the Portland Canal opened in 1830, use of the Turnpike declined and the route eventually became Portland Avenue.

Speakers for this event will include:

Kerrie Clifford, Portland NOW
Dr. Amanda Higgins, Kentucky Historical Society
Brenda Duffey, PNI Champion for Marker
Cheri Bryant Hamilton, 5th District Metro Council Member

Get Your Vegetables from the New Roots Fresh Stop Market!

The Fresh Stop Markets (FSM) are run by leaders in a grassroots food justice movement that operates from the belief that fresh food is a basic human right. FSMs are volunteer, community-driven farm-fresh food markets that pop up bi-weekly at local churches and community centers in neighborhoods that do not have grocery stores or farmers' markets. Shareholders ("customers") agree to cooperate and pay ahead of time, on an income-based sliding scale. The sliding scale means food is affordable and everyone is included.

WIC participants pay $6, those at or below 185 percent federal poverty guidelines pay $12, others pay $25, and those who would like to invest in the community pay $40. SNAP IS ACCEPTED. Everyone gets the same food! To purchase vegetables from the next market call 509-6770.
