

Bridging Communities and Healthcare: Tribal Families' Perspective in Newborn Care

Join us for an insightful panel discussion featuring members of the Indian Health Council. This session will focus on how healthcare providers can better support Native American families as they navigate neonatal care.

REGISTER NOW!

Thursday October 30th 2025

1:00 PM - 2:30 PM

UCSD East Campus Office Building ECOB 1-001

9444 Medical Center Drive, 1st Floor

Food & Refreshments Provided

Virtual
Option
Provided

ONLINE

1.5 CEU Credit

Panel Discussion Topic

- Barriers Indigenous Families face in Infant Care
- Partnering with Communities to Improve Prenatal and Newborn Health Access and Equity
- Honoring Traditions: Unique Cultural Perspectives on Newborn Care
- Healing Historical Trauma, Building Trust in Newborn Care

Who Should Attend?

Nurses, physicians, and health care providers who care for newborns and families from diverse cultural backgrounds.

QUESTIONS? CONTACT
HEALTH EQUITY IN THE NICU
(HEN) TEAM:

HENHUDDLE@HEALTH.UCSD.EDU

UC San Diego
SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

Rady
Childrens
Health

