

DEVELOPING EQUITY IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

The Developing Equity in Early Childhood Education training is a four-part series that provides leaders, administrators, and practitioners an opportunity to examine and address issues that impact equitable early childhood education (ECE).

The series consists of four 3-hour modules that build on one another:

Module 1: Culture and Equity in Early Childhood Education

Module 2: Implicit Bias: Key Concepts

Module 3: Poverty and Privilege

Module 4: Building Systems of Equity

“

This is one of the most engaging four weeks of training and professional development that I've engaged in.

For more information about the Developing Equity in Early Childhood Education training series, please contact Lynne Hall at lynne@maec.org.

To schedule training with one of the Maryland state-certified trainers or learn more, please visit our website: <https://maec.org/early-childhood-tote/>