

It's time to talk about:

What happens to the brain in addiction, how stigma holds us back the ways trauma impacts us all, and most important:

HOW CAN WE HELP?

Training Details:

This training will apply the model of addiction as a chronic disease and aims to remove stigma and encourage hope. Those enrolled in this course will learn the principles of trauma informed practices and how to have positive interactions with those suffering from substance use disorder. Those who complete this training will have a better understanding of the disease of addiction and how they can be part of someone's recovery.
