

ON BEHALF OF THE PEOPLE OF MICHIGAN,
I, Gretchen Whitmer, governor of Michigan, do hereby proclaim

December 31, 2021
as
CHIPPEWA DAY

WHEREAS, today the Central Michigan University football team will play in its 13th bowl game in team history; and,

WHEREAS, in an unexpected turn of events, CMU will appear for the first time in the Sun Bowl, one of the oldest running events in college football history; and,

WHEREAS, while this year's Sun Bowl is the 88th edition of the game, today marks the first-ever match-up between the CMU Chippewas and the Washington State Cougars; and,

WHEREAS, CMU looks to finish their dominating 8-win season with a victory in El Paso, Texas; and,

WHEREAS, as Coach Jim McElwain leads the Chippewas to the bowl game, the Chippewas will no doubt show they are warriors brave and true; and,

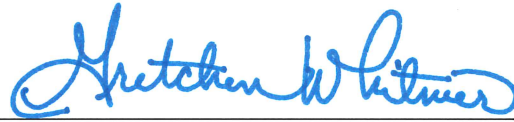

WHEREAS, fans across the country will be singing their song loud and strong as they root for CMU to achieve their 4th Bowl Game win in team history; and,

WHEREAS, FIRE UP CHIPS!; and,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gretchen Whitmer, governor of Michigan, do hereby proclaim December 31, 2021 as Chippewa Day in Michigan.
