

Growing Through Career Conversations

About

Join the Bureau of Services for Blind Persons (BSBP) and the Michigan Department of Education - Low Incidence Outreach (MDE-LIO) for a series of workshops. During three online sessions, students will be introduced to life enhancing skills: social skills (and why they are important) in a digital realm as well as in person, when to disclose that you have a vision impairment, and understanding job accommodations. During two in-person sessions, students will have an opportunity to engage with professionals who have a vision impairment and learn how they have navigated their career with a visual impairment.

Audience:

These workshops are for middle school and high school students in Michigan who are Blind/Visually Impaired.
