

Colorectal Cancer Community Conversations

American Indian Cancer Foundation (AICAF) is hosting a series of Community Conversations throughout the month of March. We are inviting providers, navigators, and advocates to join us. These short discussions provide an opportunity to share ideas and strategies for hosting screening events in organizations just like yours. This month we are visiting about ways to successfully engage, motivate, and lift up the importance of colorectal cancer screening in our communities.

A $5 Starbucks gift card will be sent as a gift of thanks for joining us.
