COMPLETING THE DIGITAL LEARNING PROGRESS RUBRIC

During its June meeting, the North Carolina State Board of Education reaffirmed a 2015 requirement that all districts and charter schools complete the Digital Learning Progress Rubric. In response, NCDPI extended the due date to August 15, 2018. It can be completed electronically and should be submitted using the following link: <https://schools.nc.gov/dlrubric>.

The interface to submit the rubric is the same as the Digital Learning and Media Inventory. System administrators (DLMI LEA Admin or DLMI Charter Admin) should already have a user account established. If you have any questions about access, please visit the DLMI Wiki.

NCDPI and The Friday Institute research team will have internal access to district and charter school records for planning Digital Learning initiatives. District-level data from the Digital Learning Progress Rubric will not be shared publicly, only aggregate trends may be reported. A Digital Learning rubric steering committee has been formed and will meet in the summer to create the ultimate data-sharing rules for the data. Participants from all eight SBE regions, charter schools, and North Carolina statewide partner organizations are members of this committee. Any changes to data-sharing decisions will be communicated via the superintendents' weekly update and technology directors list.
