The NC Department of Public Instruction is pleased to announce the hiring of Dr. Sally Jones as the Physical Education/Adapted Physical Education Consultant.

Sally comes to NCDPI from the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction where she served as the Education Consultant for Health Education, Physical Education, Adapted Physical Education and Coordinated School Health. A graduate of Appalachian State University and Western Carolina University, Sally spent nine years teaching in NC Public Schools. After receiving her Ph.D. from the University of Alabama (Roll Tide Roll!), Sally taught Health and Physical Education to pre-service teachers at the University of Wisconsin Stevens Point. There she embraced her role as an opportunity to inspire her students to do more to positively impact the lives of young people. Throughout these transitions, Sally has continued to demonstrate a strong passion for School Health, Physical Education, Adapted Physical Education and the entire Whole School, Whole Community, Whole Child model.

Sally has a commitment to Universal Design for Learning and believes that all students have the right to an inclusive education that enhances their health and well-being.

Outside of work Sally, a closeted woodworker, transforms the old into something new or reimagines random pieces into functional décor.
