Pirates took over the kitchen! They put our treasured apples in their ship and tried to sail away. They also stole all of our lunch trays so we had to use paper plates and plastic silverware.

All was not lost though; they shared their booty with the kids if they were caught being helpful or kind to others. Booty consisted of small gems, eye patches, pencils, erasers, balloons, bookmarks, bathtub toys, and a few other items. We are happy to report that all the students at school could pick from the treasure chest!
