

Phosphorus Removal Technologies

Wednesday, December 6, 2017

Hudson River Maritime Museum, Kingston, NY

8:30 a.m. – 3:30 p.m. Sign-in begins at 8:00 a.m.

In theory, phosphorus removal is easy: just make phosphorus a solid and remove the solid. But in reality, it's far more complex. There are several ways to approach phosphorus removal, and there are many considerations to take into account when evaluating the impact at a treatment facility. Through a combination of lecture, discussion, and a hands-on jar testing exercise, students will learn about chemical and biological phosphorus removal, the effects on operations, and the lessons gained from case studies and existing installations.

Instructors: Fred Mueller & Erin Moore, Tighe & Bond
