Volume 4, Number 5

July 16, 2012

This year's "Day with the Commissioner," sponsored by the Conference of State Bank Supervisors (CSBS) and the Graduate School of Banking at Colorado (GSBC), provided an information-packed day for the 75 registrants from across the state. Following the welcoming remarks from Lieutenant Governor Todd Lamb, guest speakers discussed a range of timely topics including StoneCastle Partners, LLC Managing Principal Josh Siegel's "How Investors Determine Future Bank Performance"; "Risk Adjusted Modeling for Capital, Earnings, and Liquidity" presented by Shane Williams of Strategic Risk Insights; and Olson Research Associates President Brad Olson's discussion of "Risk Measurement Dos and Don'ts."

A broad perspective of community banking was provided by Mike Stevens, CSBS Senior Executive President, who focused on "The Evolution of the Regulatory Landscape" and GSBC President Tim Koch's discussion of "The Future of Community Banking." The forum concluded with remarks from a panel of Oklahoma State Banking Department personnel.

OSBD would like to thank CSBS and GSBC for providing such a great educational and networking opportunity for our community bankers. We look forward to partnering with them again in the future.

CSBS Examiners Forum

Senior Examiners W. Shawn Burcham and Melanie Sparks attended the CSBS Examiners Forum held in Portland, Oregon, last month. The forum was designed to bring together Senior Examiners from across the country to discuss new and emerging trends in banking. Sixteen states were represented this year. Speakers included CSBS Senior Executive Vice President Mike Stevens discussing regulatory and legislative updates as well as various experts in the fields of credit risk analysis, loan scoping process, community bank investment portfolio analysis, stress testing for community banks, and effective communication in challenging situations.

Mo-Kan Trust Conference

To support the Banking Department's on-going effort to maintain an educated and informed examination staff, Senior Examiners Donna Shaw, Rick Nelson, and Wayne Arbuthnot recently attended the 2012 Mo-Kan Trust Conference held in Overland Park, Kansas. The conference had over three hundred attendees including bankers, lawyers, trust officers, financial planners, and both State and National regulators. Nationally renowned speakers presented on an array of essential topics including the economy, asset allocation, wealth preservation and financial management.
