Oklahoma Production Cost Report (Bi-Weekly)
9-18-26

Compared to last report: The fertilizer market was notably uneven this reporting period, with urea being the clear exception as prices increased consistently across all reporting contacts. Price movement among other fertilizers was mixed with some contacts reporting increases while others reported declines. Input cost associated with phosphorus fertilizer production have risen sharply in recent weeks. The substantial increase in production costs is adding upward pressure to the market and creating additional uncertainty surrounding near-term pricing. Farm diesel prices have surged in the last two weeks, jumping 0.72 per gallon higher than last report. The sharp increase has pushed the statewide average to its highest level since this report began in early 2022, surpassing the previous record of $4.85 per gallon set in July 2022. Propane was slightly higher.

Oklahoma Retail Feed Cost Report (Monthly)
9-18-26

Compared to last report: Winter feed pricing is set to begin next month; however, commodity suppliers have already begun adjusting prices in response to the sharp increase in commodity markets. Cottonseed Meal is once again being sourced from California with the additional freight expense accounting for a significant portion of the increased price. Contacts reported substantial price increases for both alfalfa pellets and soy hulls. Suppliers indicated that securing loads has become increasingly difficult, while limited trucking availability has created an additional challenge in getting those commodities delivered.
