

Behavioral Threat Assessment Management

What is BTA?

Behavioral Threat Assessments (BTA) are a proven method of early intervention that can help prevent acts of targeted violence in school environments.

This approach aligns with the recommendations of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, U.S. Department of Education, and U.S. Secret Services, underscoring its effectiveness.

At Public Consulting Group (PCG), we use an evidence-based, multi-disciplinary team approach to identify, evaluate, assess, and support students of concern who present a potential threat to themselves or others.
