Equity-Driven Summer Learning Programs

- Accessible, equitable, diverse, and inclusive
- Relationship and student-centered (voice, choice, and interest)
- Strength-based and enriching
- Well-rounded, integrated, and hands-on
- Exciting, fun, engaging, and attractive programs young people want to attend
- Co-created with students, families, and community partners
- Can take place in a variety of settings and locations

Summer Planning Starts in the Fall!

An early and robust planning process is one of the most important characteristics of a strong program.

EQUITY–DRIVEN SUMMER PROGRAMS

Connection as the Foundation for Learning

Relationships are the foundation of quality summer programs. Summer programs should not be solely based on the delivery of content, but rather driven by developing relationships, community, and a sense of belonging.

Strength-Based Student Voice & Choice

Learning happens best when educators actively engage a student's prior knowledge and view it as an asset for learning rather than a problem to overcome.

Co-Creation and Innovation

Co-creation and continued co-learning with students, families and partners ensures the specific context of the community; its history and culture(s), assets and challenges, needs, and dreams are integrated within the program.

Purposeful Outreach and Engagement

Summer programs are voluntary which require purposeful outreach and should prioritize students most underserved by the system and disproportionately impacted by the pandemic.

All webinars will be recorded & posted on our website for your convenience.
