

Important Announcement: Farewell to the Clackamas County MRC | Kirsten Ingersoll*

Due to significant and sustained declines in funding, the Clackamas County Public Health Division has made the difficult decision to close the Clackamas County Medical Reserve Corps (MRC) unit, effective February 28, 2026.

For 17 years, Clackamas County MRC volunteers have supported emergency response and public health preparedness efforts, strengthening community resilience across our county. This decision reflects funding realities—not the extraordinary value of our volunteers' contributions, for which we are deeply grateful.

We are excited to continue strengthening our relationship with SERV-OR and look forward to future opportunities to collaborate in flexible ways that do not require a formal MRC unit.

Clackamas County MRC volunteers are invited to apply to join the State Managed Volunteer Pool (SMVP). If you are not already a part of the SMVP, you can log in to your profile on the SERV-OR registry and choose the option “Request to Join Another VMU” under Quick Links on the left side on the screen.

For more information:

Clackamas County MRC FAQs

Letter from the Clackamas County Public Health Director to partners

*Kirsten Ingersoll is the Public Health Emergency Preparedness and Response Coordinator in the Office of Public Health Emergency Services of the Clackamas County Public Health Division