

Free Masks for Oregon Agriculture

The Oregon Department of Agriculture and Oregon State University (OSU) Extension are partnering to provide free KN95 masks to farmworkers, farmers, ranchers, fishers, food processors, and farm labor contractors to protect Oregon's food and fiber workers. Covering your nose and mouth with a mask is an effective tool to protect yourself and others from the spread of COVID-19. Keeping Oregon's agricultural communities healthy is critical in the ongoing response to the pandemic.

ODA and OSU have regionally staged free KN95 masks for the agricultural community. Please call ahead to schedule a time for pick-up as many staff are safely working from home.
