Garnett, SC 29922

The South Carolina Department of Natural Resources, in conjunction with the South Carolina Trappers Association, will host a Predator Management Workshop at the Webb Wildlife Center, located in Hampton County on February 27-28, 2025. Sign-in and registration will begin at 11:00am on Thursday, with the workshop starting promptly at 11:30am. The workshop will end by approximately 4:30pm on Friday.

This predator management workshop will cover such topics as:

- Predator Biology
- Deer & Turkey Habitat Management
- Quail Habitat Management
- Predator Management Options
- Trapping Equipment
- Various trap sets
- Bait/lure selection and use
- Trapping safety
- Running a trap line & Record keeping

Registered Foresters
that take and complete the workshop may qualify for Continuing
Forestry Education (CFE)
Credits. (Pending Approval)

No previous trapping experience is required, and persons with little or no trapping experience are especially encouraged to attend. Please note that everyone attending will be expected to set traps and participate with the group, rain or shine, hot or cold. This is an extended hands-on workshop for individuals who want to learn to manage their habitat and predators, and will involve outdoor participation over potentially rough or uneven terrain.

The cost for the workshop is $120 and includes workshop materials, overnight bunkhouse-style accommodations at the Webb Wildlife Center, lunch & dinner on Thursday, and breakfast & lunch on Friday.

The maximum number of attendees for this workshop is 30. Registration closes when 30 people have registered and paid. A waiting list will be created for cancellations and for future workshops.
