What can I do today?

This week it is....toys

Tuesday

Different Sizes

- Search the house for toys of different sizes. This could be bricks, balls, action figures dolls. Line them up in size order.
- Draw a picture of your biggest and smallest toy.
- Use toys as a measuring tool. For example, how many bricks long is your teddy bear? Talk about whether the bricks need to be the same length. How could you record your findings?
- You could line your toys up on a piece of paper on a sunny day and draw round their shadows. Which is the biggest shadow? The smallest?
