

Designing Your Geography Curriculum

Course Outline:

The National Curriculum for Primary Geography is fairly ambiguous, especially for non-specialist teachers. This course aims to empower you to be able to plan and implement high quality geographical learning in your school that is coherent, well sequenced and progressive... but importantly, also inspiring and enjoyable for you and your pupils

Target Audience:

Primary School Geography Subject Leaders

Course Provider:

Jon Cannell – Primary Curriculum Lead (Geographical Association)

Outcomes:

- To better understand the full range of considerations when planning a school curriculum.
- To have confidence in how to organise and sequence geographical learning that fits with your unique setting.
- To define what we want our peoples to look like at the end of the primary phase.
- To know how to develop geographical learning that is relevant, authentic and progressive
