

Emergency Child Care Places – Review Form

Single Parent Families

The Scottish Government guidance states that:

'if it is possible for children to be at home during this exceptional period, until schools reopen to them, then they should be. Whole workforces or entire groups of staff should not be designated as key workers. Doing so would undermine the collective effort we must all make to stay at home, protect the NHS and save lives during this period of strict lockdown'.

I wish to appeal my child/ren's place at Emergency Childcare and have provided the appropriate evidence from my employer to confirm this.
