

Become a

STEM Ambassador

Do live or work in Dumfries & Galloway and work or study in a STEM field? Have you considered becoming a STEM Ambassador?

What is a STEM Ambassador?

Being a STEM Ambassador is about engaging young people with science, technology, engineering and mathematics. You will help to encourage young people to consider a future in STEM and inspire the next generation of STEM professionals.

It offers the chance to give something back, whilst giving you a chance to develop your own skills.

We welcome people from all backgrounds and experiences to become a STEM Ambassador. All our volunteers receive a PVG and training.

Come along to our information session to find out more and how you can get involved.
