SPECIAL COMMEMORATIVE EDITION

Convener and Depute Convener Message

Welcome to this special commemorative edition of Community, marking the Coronation of their Majesties King Charles III and Queen Camilla. It has been an enjoyable time for many of our region's residents and the amazing range of celebrations in local press and social media has demonstrated, yet again, that our communities are creative.

Wonderful buffets, enormous cakes, lots of crown making, dancing and music have all featured and it's been great to see people coming together in their communities. There's no doubt that this was a historic event and that we made the most of that opportunity to bring people together and learn about our past, both of which are valuable for our wellbeing.

We hope that you find this special edition interesting and uplifting.

Congratulating Their Majesties

The Convener and Depute Convener of Dumfries and Galloway Council, Councillor Malcolm Johnstone and Councillor Gail Macgregor sent a letter to congratulate their Majesties on their Coronation, on behalf of Dumfries and Galloway Council and the people of our region.

Echoing the thoughts of those sharing in the celebrations with their families, communities, faiths and cultures, Councillors Johnstone and Macgregor sent their best wishes to the newly crowned King and Queen.

Ding Dong!

In Dumfries, the church bells rang out on Saturday 6 May from 2.30pm for an hour. The bells rang in various patterns including 'Kings' (75312468), 'Queens' (13572468) and also rang a method called Grandsire Doubles. This was recorded on the Ringing World website ringingworld.co.uk

On Sunday 7 May, the bells were rung for the morning service but in the afternoon, with the help of three experienced ringers from Glasgow, a quarter peal of Plain Bob Triples was rung lasting for 43 minutes. This consisted of the eight bells being rung continuously and the order of the bells changed in a set pattern 1260 time without repetition.

On Saturday 20 May, ringers from all over Scotland will be visiting St John's for a striking competition where bands will be ringing for set periods and the accuracy of the ringing judged. Rather than having open bells and upsetting the neighbours, the clappers will be tied so they don't make a noise. However, sensors on the bell wheels are linked up to a computer so loudspeakers can play them in the church and allow them to be judged.

Normally the bells ring from 10.15am to 11am on the Sunday before morning service but they also ring for practice night on Thursdays from 7.30pm to 9pm.

Whithorn Celebrates

There were Coronation celebrations across our region, organised by individuals and communities. Whithorn and District Community Council held a full programme of events over the weekend, including a picnic with the primary schools, and a community showing of the Coronation. The community all got into the spirit by entering a competition to decorate their homes and businesses in royal style.

The events brought together individuals and organisations, including The New Town Hall, Dumfries and Galloway Council's Youth Work Team, musicians from the South Machars Community Centre, and Simpson's and the Central Cafe for the essential cake and ice cream. It will be a weekend that will remain long in the memories of those who were there.

Tea for the Queens

Dumfries and Galloway Council is to host a unique event in 2023 to celebrate the queens who are crowned in the many community galas and Riding of the Marches that take place across our region.

All the community gala queens will be invited to a special afternoon tea and group photograph in September 2023 to mark their coronation in this national Coronation year.

They are the Champions!

Dumfries and Galloway volunteers were among the Coronation Champions announced in the run-up to the Coronation of His Majesty The King and Her Majesty The Queen Consort.

They include Stephen Carruthers who helped to get a new half-million pound performing arts centre up and running for Dalbeattie. Stephen is a tireless youth leader, and has been called an inspiration to those he helps.

Matthew Rolfe from the Summerhill Community Centre in Dumfries has also been recognised. Matthew never stops in his efforts to keep the community centre running – and even grass cutting for neighbours.

THE QUEEN'S COMMONWEALTH ESSAY COMPETITION 2023

Since 1883, the Royal Commonwealth Society has delivered The Queen's Commonwealth Essay Competition, the world's oldest international schools' writing competition.

To mark the 50th Anniversary of the Commonwealth Youth Programme, Commonwealth Heads of Government declared 2023 a year dedicated to youth-led action for sustainable and inclusive development – and called on a renewal and strengthening of our commitment to youth engagement and empowerment.

The Queen's Commonwealth Essay Competition 2023 asks entrants to explore the power young people hold within the global community and consider how this power can be harnessed to make a meaningful impact in the world.

There are two categories in the competition – the senior category for young people aged 14 to 18, and the junior category for children and young people under 14 years of age.

The top two winners from each category will be awarded a trip to London for a week of educational and cultural events, culminating in a special awards ceremony at a royal palace. All successful entries will receive a Certificate of Participation – and a number of entrants will receive Gold, Silver and Bronze Awards for excellence in writing.

The Queen's Commonwealth Essay Competition 2023 is now open for entries until 30 June 2023. For more information on how to enter the competition please visit www.royalcwsociety.org

Snaps Around the Region

These photographs are from our online photograph collection (viewdumfriesandgalloway.co.uk) and from our collection of the Dumfries and Galloway Standard covering visits by HM King Charles III during his time as Prince of Wales and Duke of Rothesay.

He made his first visit in 1979 and paid further visits in 1989, 2006 and most recently, in 2019 when Camilla, the Duchess of Rothesay, joined him.

It was a celebration for communities and people of all ages."

Lord-Lieutenant for The Stewartry of Kirkcudbright, Matthew St Clair, The Lord Sinclair

"It was a great honour and privilege to represent the Stewartry of Kirkcudbright at the Coronation of Their Majesties King Charles III and Queen Camilla on Saturday 6 May. A day when the country and people from all walks of life came together, as one, in celebration of our King and Queen."

Lord-Lieutenant of Dumfries, Mrs Fiona Armstrong

"What an amazing few days: colour, celebration, reflection – above all a chance to get together and help each other. This was a fantastic example of old-fashioned community spirit."

Armed Forces

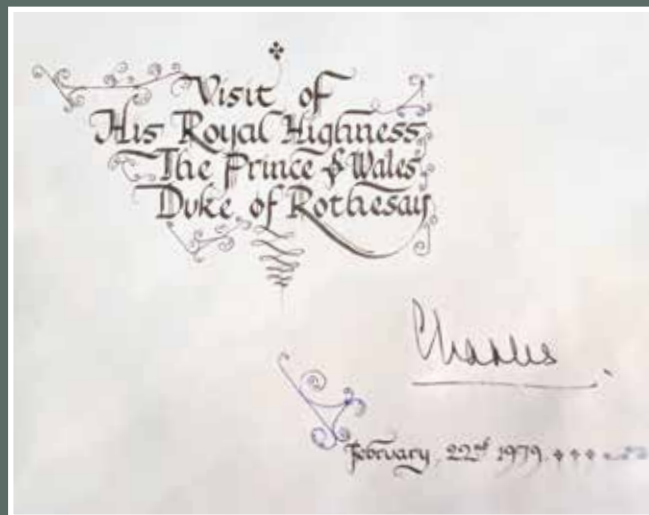

The monarch of Great Britain has three important roles with the Armed Forces:

- Promoting the role of the Armed Forces within national life
- Supporting the welfare and interests of service personnel, veterans and their families; and
- Maintaining the history and heritage of the Armed Service

Formally the sovereign is the Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces, which makes King Charles III 'the boss' of all serving personnel across our forces. Although it is essentially an honorary position, being a role model for integrity, loyalty and service are important leadership qualities that can have a great influence on culture and morale.

The fantastic display at the Coronation Parade last weekend was a great exercise for the troops, as well as showing the world the discipline and skills of our Armed Forces. There were a number of people from our region involved – including the two sons of former councillor John Charteris.

Coronation events held in Dumfries and Galloway brought together veterans in comradeship and reflection, including one at the Dumfries Veterans Garden that the Convener, Councillor Malcolm Johnstone attended, along with Armed Forces Champion, Councillor Archie Dryburgh, Councillor Linda Dorward and MSP Colin Smith.

We hope that King Charles III will make another visit to our region again soon.
