

DIGITAL SKILLS ➤ AND CAREERS FESTIVAL

➤ 20th January, 10am - 4pm

➤ Online

Are you between 16-30, based in Greater Manchester and looking to boost your digital skills and kickstart your career in tech?

Ada is the National College for Digital Skills. Their mission is to educate and empower the next generation of diverse digital talent. The digital sector is diverse and growing, offering many exciting career pathways and opportunities. However, taking a first step towards a career in tech can be daunting. Through this interactive virtual one-day event, you will gain:

- An understanding of the range of careers available
- A sense of which ones might suit you based on your own passions and skills
- Professional insights and clear actions on your next steps
- The opportunity to talk to industry professionals at different stages of their careers
- The chance to explore a range of tools, resources and courses, and ask questions

Throughout, Ada will support you to build up your own career planning resources, including key learning and action steps, so that you'll have something of lasting value to take away and support you on your journey.
