

Addressing complexities in supporting and palliative care in a community setting training session

This full-day course is open to senior nurses, allied health professionals, and advanced nurse practitioners who work within the community. It's fully interactive and will provide you with an overview of the main issues in palliative and end-of-life care.

The next dates available are Monday 26 September and Thursday 17 November 2022 both from 9:30am to 4:30pm. For more information and to book a place, visit the MFT Learning Hub.

Note this training is not suitable for new starters.