Another session for ALL colleagues

– and, as always, it's ALL free!

Everyone – primary and secondary colleagues – will find something of interest in this session on teaching phonics in language lessons, delivered by the Queen of Physical Phonics, Sue Cave (my words, not Sue's!).

Sue will discuss how best to teach and embed phonics in language lessons, with a focus on the following:

- Why teach phonics
- Which sounds to teach
- Which method to use
- Examples of classroom activities
- How to develop confident and independent speakers
- Decoding IPA symbols

The examples will be mainly in French and English but with some reference to German and Spanish.

A link to this meeting will be sent out closer to the date. If you would like to register your interest, please contact lizlord0502@gmail.com.

Sue Cave has more than 35 years' experience of teaching languages in secondary, adult education, EAL and primary. Currently, she is a consultant and trainer for Cave Languages. Her passion and enthusiasm for the transformative effect of the explicit teaching of phonics is infectious. She is an author of primary languages resource books and co-author of Physical French Phonics and Physical Spanish Phonics.

Note: this session is relevant for both primary and secondary practitioners. Take a quick look at the video in the link below, in which Tracy Williams of the Trent and Tame Language Hub describes how she has used the Physical Phonics Resources in her settings.
