

ALL Portsmouth Primary Hub

and

Portsmouth LA Network Leads

Wednesday 21 May 2025

1530 – 1700 at Copnor Primary School, Portsmouth

Another session for everyone involved, or maybe just interested, in languages education in Portsmouth – and, as always, it's ALL free!

Fabulous Five-minute Fillers

This session will focus on easy, filler activities that can be included in formal language lessons or integrated into the school day across the week. Whether you are the languages specialist in your setting, or you are supporting colleagues to deliver the languages curriculum, you will definitely take away lots of ideas to share and bring a little sparkle to languages teaching.

We are very fortunate to have highly respected and experienced languages professional, Clare Seccombe, take us through simple but effective activities that support language learning and increase engagement. (This will be a recorded session.) There will be an opportunity to try out some fun activities – and why not share with fellow attendees your favourite go-to activity?

Pop the date in your diary, and, if possible, send an email to let us know you are coming. (lizlord0502@gmail.com)
If travelling by car, please park in one of the local residential streets, as parking is limited on the school site.

Portsmouth LA Primary Network Language Leads

Clare Seccombe has taught languages in Sunderland primary schools for sixteen years, having previously spent fourteen years as a secondary languages teacher, AST and primary languages adviser. Clare is probably best-known for setting up, maintaining and writing resources for Light Bulb Languages. She is also a member of the ALL Council and writes the primary blog for Languages Today magazine. Clare collaborates with publishers, speaks at conferences, supports teachers in local schools and trains students at universities.
