

Mentoring Courses

- Can you use your life or work experience to support someone else's personal development?
- Are you interested in mentoring or currently working as a mentor or coach? Would like to share your knowledge, experience and insights and help others most in need?
- Do you want to deepen your understanding of a mentoring role and formalise your skills and experience with a recognised qualification?

An Introduction to Mentoring or NCFE Award in Mentoring either at Level 1 or Level 2 could be for you. To study the Level 2 course it would be helpful if you are currently in a mentoring role.

If you are interested in any of the above the first step is to register for either our non-accredited Introduction to Mentoring or if you have experience of mentoring then our initial assessment. The Initial Assessment will be done online and will take about an hour.

Following a successful assessment or completion of the Introduction to Mentoring course, you will be invited to join our Mentoring Level 1 accredited course.

Where: Delivered live online via Zoom/Canvas.

When: Initial Assessments will be held by appointment from 6th December onwards. Look out for an email inviting you to join an online assessment. To book an assessment: C3129570: Professional Development, Preparation for work: Mentoring Initial Assessment West Midlands \(C3129570\) \(wea.org.uk\)
