

Funded by

Department for Education

English Hubs

St John Bosco English Hub

Working in partnership to ensure every child becomes a life-long reader.

Diane Pye

Executive Function: The importance of developing executive function

Diane has over 30 years' experience in education, as a teacher, curriculum leader, headteacher, Ofsted inspector, trainer and speaker.

DPSI Knowledge Education

Aimed at: * Reading/Phonics Leaders *Class teachers * English subject leaders and SENCoS

Thursday 5th February 2026 9am- 11am

Executive Function - part 1

The importance of developing executive function. Informed by research and proven impact.

This 2-hour session will include:

- what is executive function?
- developing executive function
- the impact of purposeful language and conversations
- securing key concepts and knowledge

COST: FREE

Please click on the QR code or link to book your place on the training:

Thursday 19 March 2026 9am- 11am

Executive Function - part 2

Part two provides inspirational ideas to strengthen teaching and develop executive function in the classroom.

This 2-hour session will include:

- curriculum ideas, resources and successes
- effective routines and systems
- laying foundations for learning in different national curriculum subjects
- the impact of purposeful language and conversations
- securing key concepts and knowledge

Executive function

Please note both training sessions will need to be attended to gain an overall understanding of executive function

Attendees will come away with refreshed thinking and plenty of ideas.

For further information, please contact Jacky Briscoe, Strategic Lead:
jacky.briscoe@st-johnbosco.sandwell.sch.uk or call on 0121 556 0228

www.st-johnbosco-englishhubs.co.uk

St John Bosco Catholic Primary School, Monmouth Drive, West Bromwich, West Midlands, B71 2ST