Shropshire Virtual School are delighted to collaborate with Mike Nicholson, founder of Progressive Masculinity to deliver a key-note speech to professionals working with children and young people in Shropshire. Mike Nicholson is a former teacher and founder of Progressive Masculinity Ltd, a UK-based organisation that delivers workshops and training to help boys and young men explore healthier, more positive understandings of masculinity in schools, FE settings and communities.

Following this key-note there will be opportunities for schools and FE settings to apply for further funded training, with Mike and his team to come in and work in your school or FE setting.
