

July Tribal Public Safety Dialogue Session: Active Shooters on Tribal Lands, Part 2

When: Tuesday July 27th 1:00-3:00 pm CST

In this month's session, we are continuing our conversation surrounding active shooter events on Tribal Land. We have a panel of LSU-NCBRT instructors discussing their personal experience and knowledge involving these incidents across the country.

The session will be held via Zoom on Tuesday, July 27th from 1:00 to 3:00 pm CST.

These free open forum sessions are held monthly via Zoom and focus on an emergency management topic or issue. Each session will feature guest speakers from a variety of tribal communities and LSU NCBRT/ACE subject matter experts.

We encourage tribal citizens and responders to join the sessions and utilize this collaborative environment to share their experiences, challenges and success stories.

Spaces are limited, so register now!

Register for the Tribal Public Safety Dialogue Session

If you have any questions about these sessions or experience any technical issues signing up, please contact tribal@ncbrt.lsu.edu.

Do you have a suggestion for a future session? Submit your idea here.

LSU NCBRT/ACE is a national center for emergency preparedness and response training has endeavored to provide relevant training for tribal, state, local and territorial responders. Our team looks forward to working with your tribal nation and all Indian Country. Together we will work to overcome this pandemic and to better prepare protect our communities from all threats.