Hurricane Preparedness Week – Saturday

Complete Your Written Plan

- The time to prepare for a hurricane is before the season begins, when you have the time and are not under pressure
- If you wait until a hurricane is on your doorstep, the odds are that you will be under duress and will make the wrong decisions; take the time now to write down your hurricane plan
- Know where you will ride out the storm and get your supplies now; you don't want to be standing in long lines when a hurricane warning is issued; those supplies that you need will probably be sold out by the time you reach the front of the line
- Being prepared, before a hurricane threatens, makes you resilient to the hurricane impacts of wind and water; it will make the difference between you being a hurricane victim and a hurricane survivor

A blue graphic for Hurricane Awareness Tour. It features a large hurricane icon in the top left. A dashed white line forms a diamond shape containing three icons: a person with arms raised, a folder, and a camera. Text labels are placed next to each icon: "Share your plan" next to the person, "Keep your important documents together for quick access" next to the folder, and "Have photo documentation of valuables" next to the camera. To the right of the diamond, the text reads: "May 13th Complete your written plan Writing down your plan will help you avoid mistakes when faced with an emergency and ensure everyone in your home is prepared for the next storm." At the bottom right, it says "Hurricane Awareness Tour May 7-13, 2017" and includes logos for FEMA and the U.S. Department of Homeland Security.
