Join Us for a Webinar to Learn More About Holiday Fire Prevention for Faith-Based and Community Organizations

The DHS Center for Faith is hosting the first session of the Faithful Readiness mini-webinar series for faith-based and community organizations. This webinar teaches houses of worship how to mitigate their fire risks and share fire safety tips with their communities.

Discussions will focus on practical fire prevention and safety considerations for houses of worship during the holiday season, when many will host religious services, gatherings, community meals and other seasonal activities.

In collaboration with the U.S. Fire Administration, the webinar will highlight fire prevention resources and practical approaches to strengthen community safety during the holiday season, from Thanksgiving to New Year celebrations. Attendees will receive federal resources in easy-to-use holiday fire prevention and safety graphics and images.

The webinar will highlight USFA's Fire is Everyone's Fight. This national initiative unites the fire and life safety organizations to reduce home fire injuries, deaths and property loss by changing how people think about fire and fire prevention.

Join the webinar to learn how to keep yourself and your dwellings safer from the risk of fire.
