NEW! Virtual Education Fairs using Virtual Reality Technology

Brought to you by U.S. Commercial Service, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce

Showcase your school to top potential recruitment partners and high school counselors overseas using the latest virtual reality technologies available. U.S. educational institutions now have the ability to showcase their campus, classrooms, dorms, and surroundings to top recruitment partners and high school counselors overseas, in an immersive experience, without setting foot on your campus. Make your marketing memorable and stand-out from the rest! Cost to participate will vary by market.

Who Should Participate?

Educational State Consortia, Intensive English Programs, Higher Educational Institutions, Secondary Educational Institutions
