

Navy Reserve Mentorship Network

Mentorship – Tailored for you!

The Navy Reserve Mentorship Network (NRMN) is here to enhance your career. This initiative is all about you, the individual Navy Reserve Sailor, and helping you achieve your goals. This is a completely voluntary initiative that gives you access to a diverse group of experienced mentors through a searchable database.

- Want to know more about making a fast start in the Navy Reserve?
- Need advice on how to make rate, apply for a commissioning program, or prepare for the advancement exam?
- Want to make yourself more competitive for command or a change of designator?
- Want to talk with someone who is in your same circumstance about how to balance Navy Reserve, family, civilian careers, etc.?

Our Navy Reserve Force is filled with great professionals who were once in your shoes and want to pass on the secrets of their success. Come join the conversation on Navy Reserve CareerCompass (the NRMN mentorship portal) and start your mentor searches. We're looking forward to hearing from you.

FAQs

Q. Is participation in this initiative required?

A. No. This is completely voluntary.

Q. Will I be assigned a mentor?

A. No. You search for and choose your own mentor?

Q. What kind of issues can I get mentoring for?

A. Choose any number of mentors to help you with what each mentor does best (test prep, commissioning program advice, command prep, community milestones).

Q. Other mentorship initiatives have come and gone. Why is this different?

A. This initiative is for YOU, not for the Navy or for keeping score of mentoring sessions. NRMN will provide training for mentors, mentoring tools, and a local, regional, and Force-wide team that will help you make the best use of the Network.
