

Literacy Is For Tomorrow

Fox Frenzy Summer Reading Program

We are pleased to announce that students in grades 1-6 have been invited to participate in this year's WSES Fox Frenzy Summer Reading Program! Our goal is to put 'just right' books of your student's choice in their hands this summer. The program cost is $36.00.

The program includes:

- Six new books at your child's reading level
- A shopping day in school
- A summer reading log
- Summer reading response journal
- Summer reading celebration in the fall

Your student will have the opportunity to "shop" for books in May.

In June, your student will receive a reading response journal along with their six books. Reading response ideas will be posted inside the reading response journal. Please encourage your student to write a reading response for each of the books that they received this summer.

Your student can also participate in the WSES School-wide Summer Reading Challenge. The challenge encourages your student to read in many different ways! It will be a great opportunity for your student to read the new books they are receiving as well as many of the books from their own collection and those from the public library this summer! More information is coming soon.

I look forward to joining all our readers in a celebration of sharing their favorite summer read over ice cream when we return to school in the fall!

If you have any questions about our WSES Fox Frenzy Summer Reading Program, please contact Kim Hamilton @ kahamilton@fcps.edu.

Can't wait for a summer filled with reading adventures!!!
